Whitley Domination of Highway Board Charged

PICKS ENGINEERS TO INSPECT WORK, BROTHER AVERS

State Employees Threatened With Removal by Associate of Talmadge, Relative Charges, Urging Election of Rivers.

'TRICKS' ALLEGED IN CONSTRUCTION

State Road Body Allowed Specification Changes, After Awarding Bids, to Reduce Costs, He Says.

Charges that his brother, John E. Whitley, of LaGrange, dominates the State Highway Department, picks the engineers he wants to inspect his own projects and threatens them with removal from their jobs through his influence with Governor Talmadge were made over the radio yesterday by Grover C. Whitley, of LaGrange.

Whitley said that he was speaking as a plain citizen. He said he was paying for his own radio time and that he personally arranged for the broadcast.

The contractor's brother pointed out that in 1932, with John Whitley, he aided in fighting a policy of the highway department which Governor and his associates have permitted to return to the department. In his speech he charged that John Whitley has forced the Highway Board to change specifications after the Whitley Construction Company has been awarded a contract and otherwise practiced "tricks" to reduce costs and increase profits.

Whitley praised the Roosevelt administration and said he was supporting Senator Richard B. Russell, Jr., E. D. Rivers for governor and Columbus Roberts for commissioner of agriculture.

"In 1932 Eugene Talmadge with six or seven other candidates was running for governor of this state," he said. "One of the planks of his platform was to reduce costs and increase profits."

1,416,000,000-Bushel Corn Crop Forecast

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(AP)—A consensus of five private crop estimates made public on the Chicago Board of Trade today indicated a 1936 domestic corn crop of 1,416,000,000 bushels, 23,000,000 bushels below the latest government figures and the smallest crop in more than a half century.

Contrary to the expectations of many traders the crop estimates showed a general decrease in corn prospects during August from drought benefited reports that recent rains had benefited the crop in some sections where growth was late.

The average of the five estimates actually was 156,000,000 bushels below the average of the same authorities just a month ago.

City Democratic Leaders Busily Count Primary Votes

City Democratic executive committee members yesterday labored over results of Wednesday's municipal primary, and it became necessary to recount ballots in two councilmanic races—the first and third wards. Seated in the center, Seab Sharp is reading a ballot while the results are being observed and tallied by others. Left to right, around the circle, are shown: L. Glenn Dewberry, assistant secretary of the committee; James T. Ozburn, chairman; Paul Gentry, E. E. Cook and J. R. Pratt, committee members; Tom Couch, son of Councilman J. Allen Couch, who won the nomination on the recount, and H. Turner Locher, who lost. Staff photo by H. J. Slayton.

TALMADGE IN ROW WITH UNION HEAD

Columbus Police Keep Order, Quell Several Disorders; Press Is Hit.

By GLENN RAMSEY,
Associated Press Staff Writer.
COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Governor Talmadge told an audience today in this cotton manufacturing center he ordered troops into the area during the 1934 textile strike upon the request of "union leaders right here in Columbus."

The Governor spoke in behalf of his campaign against United States Senator Richard B. Russell, Jr., who has attacked the use of the militia during Talmadge's administration.

Following his morning address here, Talmadge went to America's first mid-afternoon speech and to Rochelle for a 7:30 p. m. appearance.

Watson Sister Flays 'Insult to Memory'

THOMSON, Ga., Sept. 3.—Mrs. Julia Watson Clatt, sister of the late Thomas E. Watson, has sent the following communication to the McDuffie Progress.

"She very emphatically defends her brother's memory and holds that the things for which Talmadge stands in his race for the senate were bitterly opposed by her brother."

Her communication follows:

"I cannot refrain from resenting the assertion contained in your last issue that my brother, the late Thomas E. Watson, espoused the principles that Eugene Talmadge is now carrying forward."

"The brother would have been ashamed to do the things Talmadge has done."

"It is an insult to his memory to say he would favor the things Talmadge is trying to do."

"He was a friend to the poor and oppressed, and he sought to lift their burdens."

"He urged the federal income tax and pleaded for free school books for poor children."

"Talmadge opposed free school books until a few months ago and is now advocating repeal of the federal income tax."

"The dead cannot speak and it is unfair for Talmadge to try to stand beneath the furred banner of Thomas E. Watson."

"MRS. JULIA WATSON CLATT."

TALMADGE DECEIT IS HIT BY RUSSELL

Illuminating Answer to Senator's Query on AAA Bill Is Read to Audience

By RALPH MCGILL,
Staff Correspondent.

MARIETTA, Ga., Sept. 3.—Eugene Talmadge, before the people of Georgia with a bitter denunciation of Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Democratic administration, denounces a so-called program of "secrecy."

Senator Richard B. Russell, seeking an endorsement from the farmers, today before a cheering, intent throng on the public square at Marietta and said:

"When I was governor of Georgia Eugene Talmadge attempted to intimidate me and force an extra session of the state legislature to enact a law which would have forbidden every farmer in the state from planting a single row of cotton."

"Gang for Growers."

"He advocated a bill which would have sent any Georgia farmer to the chain gang had he planted any cotton at all."

"That's right. We remember that!" came the shout from the crowd.

"And now this same man stands before you to criticize the administration of his own party because it reduced crops and paid the farmers for the reduction."

"That's right, that's right," came the shout.

"It was Gene who fooled the farmers of this state. It is Gene who comes before you now telling you that the AAA hurt the farmers of this state with benefit checks."

"Let me read you a letter," said the senator. "It is written on the state house letterhead and it is signed by Eugene Talmadge. It is in reply to a letter I sent him when the AAA bill was before the congress. In it I asked him what he thought about it. This is his reply:

"Talmadge, 'Answer.' 'My dear Senator: Thank you for your letter and a copy of the farm bill. I am leaving for Florida and Cuba and am taking the bill with me. I hope to have the opportunity to study it.'"

"Now," said Senator Russell, "that is typical. He never answered the bill."

HARTSFIELD, KEY RUNOVER PRIMARY IS SET FOR SEPT. 23

Police Reform Candidate Maintains Lead; Council Contests Are Mandatory in 2 of 5 Wards.

William B. Hartsfield, 46, and Mayor Key, 69, will fight it out for the mayoralty nomination in a special primary election to be held Wednesday, September 23, under a decision yesterday of the city Democratic committee. Candidates must file notice of their intention to run by Wednesday. A total of 20,748 votes were cast from a registration list containing 33,002 names.

Key continued to trail Hartsfield on the official count of the primary last night by 417 votes. Hartsfield had 8,951 votes, Key, 8,534, while James L. Wells, third entrant, received 3,073. Some 200 persons scratched all three names in this race.

Runovers in two councilmanic contests and in three races for membership of the city Democratic executive committee are mandatory because candidates failed to muster a majority.

Following a recount last night the committee declared Cecil W. Heister the nominee from the second councilmanic post from the first ward. Charles L. Chosewood won one place without question.

Recount Gave Majority.

On the basis of official figures, Heister lacked one vote of having a majority of the votes cast and thus failed to secure the nomination, it was contended by Howard C. McCutcheon, who ran third.

The recount, however, showed Heister the total remained unchanged while McCutcheon lost 13 votes, thus Heister mustered the required majority.

Council runovers are necessary in the second and sixth wards where no majorities were obtained.

McCutcheon said he was not satisfied with the count, but asserted "I see nothing I can do about it."

A recount of votes from the new third ward showed that J. Allen Couch and William T. Knight were nominated. Councilman H. Turner Locher, who was in the race, issued a statement along with Couch that he was satisfied with the count.

"The third ward will have two good councilmen representing them," Locher said. "I thank those who voted for me."

Knight had 1,312 votes, while there was a difference of only six votes between him and Locher.

Pledges of Support Required in Primary

GRiffin, Ga., Sept. 3.—Only those voters who will agree to support the Democratic nominees "from President down" in the general election will be allowed to vote in the Democratic primary in Spalding county next week, according to the ruling of the Spalding Democratic executive committee yesterday.

The committee passed resolutions approving the state committee ruling on eligibility and went further by instructing all election managers to question any voters they might suspect would vote other than for the Democratic nominees in the election and unless they would pledge themselves to vote Democratic in the general election.

It was pointed out that in some instances in this county people had been known to vote in the Democratic primary and then to vote against the party nominees in the general election. The committee voted to put a stop to this in the coming primary.

The resolution on this question was introduced by Judge J. A. Drewry, of Sunbury, and was carried without a dissenting vote. Quimby Melton, editor of the Griffin News, is chairman of the committee.

Richman, Merrill Land in Wales; Will Make London Hop Today

LLANGADOCK, Carmarthenshire, South Wales, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Forced down here by fuel shortage after flying the Atlantic from New York, Dick Merrill and Harry Richman prepared their low-wing monoplane tonight to complete the hop to London tomorrow.

Thousands of curious Welshmen drove from all parts of Wales to the lonely copse where the two men, the veteran pilot, and Richman, the crooner, brought down the huge craft 175 miles from the British capital, their original goal.

Constables guarded the plane, the Lady Peace, as the pair went to nearby Llandovery to spend the night. The transoceanic hop, estimated roughly at about 3,300 miles in all, took a total of 17 hours and 53 minutes, Richman said. They landed at 3:30 p. m., English daylight time (9:30 a. m., Atlanta time), after taking off at 3:27 p. m. Atlanta time yesterday, from Floyd Bennett field, Brooklyn.

A supply of 100 gallons of gasoline brought from Cardiff, Wales, was found unsuitable, but more will be brought early in the morning so the Lady Peace can take to the air to complete the trip.

Irish Defenders Retreat In Bloody Engagement

Quick Capture of Vital Path to Sea Appears Inevitable; Six-Hour Battle Slowly Forces Soldiers From Barricade to Barricade; Bullets Fall in France.

By ROBERT B. PARKER JR.,
(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)
BEHOBIE, France, Sept. 4.—(Friday).—Fascist Rebel forces encircled the government militiamen defending Behobie, suburb of long-besieged Irun, early today and quick capture of the town appeared inevitable.

Rebel 6-inch guns opened fire on Irun and a blaze broke out in the southern outskirts of the city, visible from this French town 100 feet across the Bidassoa river from Behobie.

The defenders of Behobie fought with their backs to the international bridge, their only avenue of escape from slaughter.

Fifty government fighters held the entrance to the bridge, with more than 1,000 Rebels firing from a semicircle. Bullets flew over the bridge and dropped into the streets of Behobie, France.

The surrounding of Behobie came quickly after the Rebels, reinforced, compelled the government militiamen to retreat following six hours of bloody fighting around a street barricade.

Behind the broken windows of virtually every home and building in Behobie, government defenders dodged back and forth splitting the night with the acid flashes of their rifles and machine guns.

Singling out the converted redoubts one by one, the attackers, led by units of ferocious-looking Moors, charged, sacrificing countless men in their efforts to clear out the suburb and clear the way into strategic Irun where 60 Fascist hostages, were reported to have been shot in a cemetery.

Blow Up Pillboxes.

With the government defenders sniping from behind their hastily thrown-up barricades, the attackers blew up the converted pillboxes with well-aimed hand grenades.

The government snipers, giving ground house by house, held out desperately, knowing that each hour they delayed the Rebel advance gave their comrades in Irun just so much longer to string barbed wire across the streets.

Within the besieged city the last line of defense against the Rebels worked frantically to make their crumbling city a maze of barricades.

Roadways leading up to the city's gates were furrowed with dynamite charges as the defenders towed to

U. S. KEEPS BILLION FOR 'EMERGENCY'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Administration concern over conditions abroad was emphasized today by announcement from Secretary Morgenthau that the treasury will keep a cash balance of $1,000,000,000 as "insurance" against "anything unforeseen."

Because of "times and conditions" abroad, Morgenthau said, the government would borrow $400,000,000 this month rather than cut into the treasury's big working balance for current expenses.

The announcement, made to newsmen gathered around Morgenthau's desk in a specially summoned press conference, was something of a surprise to financial quarters in view of President Roosevelt's recent statement the cash balance would be curtailed.

Two Million Interest.

Morgenthau said it cost about $2,000,000 a year in interest to keep such a cash balance, but it was "a very desirable thing to do" because such a reserve "is the safest insurance we can carry for the American people should anything unforeseen occur."

The $400,000,000 of new money will be borrowed, Morgenthau said, at the same time the treasury refinance a maturing $514,000,000 note issue September 15.

Regarding the maturity, Morgenthau said new obligations would be issued in exchange for the notes. He did not disclose the interest rate or other details of the new issue. Announcement of these details is expected September 8.

President Roosevelt's forecast of a curtailed cash balance came in his revised budget summary this week.

Cobb Says: Future Hanging Over Abyss

By IRVIN S. COBB,
(Copyright, 1936, by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 3.—Reading the speeches by the spellbinders, one learns that the future of American civilization is again hanging over an abyss. All of this would seem to prove the poor thing is a synthetic product anyhow. Because some have imagined that ivory dome, and some intimate that there are feet of clay, and now it would appear it likewise has a rubber neck because, come to think about it, I can hardly remember a time when the future of American civilization wasn't hanging.

For different presidential years there are different abysses. Indeed, where are a campaign be without a dependable abyss to hang over, besides here and there a lusty emergency, and here and there a crisis? So it must be that this civilization of ours has a reinforced, vulcanized, copper-jointed gozle. Even with the wear and tear it's getting, I wouldn't be surprised if it lasted clear through election.

Speaking of election, no matter who wins, it seems probable that Vincent Astor will be able to resume yachting and the Roosevelt boys to resume motoring.

IOWA CONFERENCE OF 7 GOVERNORS DELAYS DECISIONS

Rival Candidates Meet at Capital, Break Bread Together and Hold Private Conversation; Big Welcome Is Given Both.

8-AUTO CARAVAN BRINGS GOVERNOR

President Tells Landon, "If You Should Occupy White House, Don't Use Big Boat for Fishing."

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and Governor Alf M. Landon, the nation's ranking political rivals, met in Iowa's statehouse today with a warm handshake, "How do you do, Mr. President?" and a "How are you, Governor?"

Then they ate fried chicken and corn on the cob at the same lunch-table and talked mostly about fishing.

Marvin H. McIntyre, the President's secretary, described the first meeting of the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates in the reception room of Governor Clyde L. Herring's office, where the Governor entertained 60 persons invited to the President's conference on the drouth.

McIntyre said the President introduced his son, John, to the Kansas Governor.

"You had a long, hard motor trip to get here," McIntyre said the President remarked to the man who seeks to wrest the nation's highest office from him.

"Landon," the secretary continued, "replied with a smile: 'Yes, I did. But I got here on time.'"

Later, Governor Haimar Petersen, of Minnesota, who was at the White House, reported that the President and Landon talked mostly about fishing.

"I remember at one point the President said to Landon: 'If You Take My Place.'"

"Now remember, Governor Landon, if you take my place in the White House, be sure you don't use too big a boat to go fishing."

"Then we all laughed and I told a funny story. The reason the President said to Landon: 'If You Take My Place.'"

Georgian Is Quizzed In Alabama Mystery

DEMOPOLIS, Ala., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Federal, state and county authorities pondered questions at Frank Green, 29, of Mazon, Ala., who was taken to jail cell tonight as he sought an answer to the strange disappearance of Wesley D. Arnett, of Birmingham, Resettlement Administration investigator.

Green was arrested last night while driving Arnett's car and admitted to Sergeant Roy Grubbs, of the state highway patrol, that he stole it in Birmingham on Tuesday—the day Arnett disappeared.

Asked about Arnett, he said, "I never heard of him."

Sergeant Grubbs said he made a careful search of the car and found no blood stains or signs of a struggle, although a glass window was broken and two fenders dented as the result of a smash-up.

He said the gun found on Green had a rusty barrel and apparently had not been fired recently.

J. K. ORR FELLOWSHIPS WILL BE GIVEN TODAY

Nine Awards To Be Made;
Honor Grads of Southern Schools Eligible.

Nine J. K. Orr fellowships to the George Washington University's school of government, at Washington, will be awarded this morning to successful candidates, each honor graduates of southern universities. It was announced yesterday by Thomas C. Law, chairman of the Knights Templar educational foundation.

The fellowship, which was founded by J. K. Orr, prominent shoe manufacturer, capitalist and philanthropist, is for two years' graduate work at George Washington University. The candidate will lead to a master's degree and the winners of the fellowship must commit themselves to government service as their life work.

Interview Today.
Candidates will be interviewed at 9:30 o'clock this morning at the Biltmore hotel by the Knights Templar educational committee. On the committee are Kendall Weisiger, Dr. J. H. McCain, Dr. Willis A. Sutton and H. N. Clark. A fifth member is yet to be named.

Candidates are: Madison Byrd and William Smith, both of Atlanta, and Lee Harwell, of Covington, graduates of Emory University; J. A. Matthews, of Barnesville, and John B. Walters, of Augusta, graduates of Vanderbilt; W. Clyde Dunn, of Chapel Hill, N. C., a graduate of the University of North Carolina; Deupree Hunnicutt Jr., of Athens; Claude B. Green, of Clayton, and Harley Milton Williams, of Stillmore, graduates of the University of Georgia.

The foundation is a $5,000,000 revolving loan fund for juniors and seniors in accredited colleges and universities and was founded by Orr. Each winner receives a fellowship of $1,000.

In establishing the fellowships, Orr pointed out that the object is to encourage leaders in good citizenship and in raising the standards of government. Eligible for the fellowships are graduates of the class of 1935 or 1936 in liberal arts, commerce or law, who have majored in political science, economics, history or a combination of either. They must be from the upper fifth of their class, of sound health and interested in extra curricula fields of editorial or managerial work. Only southerners will be considered.

Each candidate has been required to present his own case in a letter accompanied by three letters of recommendation, including one from the president or dean of his college.

The fellowships will be awarded immediately following the completion of the personal interviews this morning. It was announced.

EX-SPANISH PRINCE TO PAY WIFE ALIMONY

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Alfonso de Bourbon, former crown prince of Spain, was ordered by Supreme Court Justice Aaron Steiner today to pay his wife, the former Edelmira Sampedro, of Havana, temporary alimony of $250 monthly and $750 counsel fees.

The award was made pending the outcome of the prince's suit for the annulment of the marriage. The prince is at present a hospital patient, suffering from the family disease of hemophilia.

The wife had asked for $250 a week and $25,000 counsel fees, claiming the latter sum would be necessary for the expenses she said would be involved in an investigation of the basis of her husband's complaint.

COSTLY INSECT PEST.
Ontario government experts estimate the European spruce saw-fly, introduced accidentally in Canada in 1920, has destroyed at least 6,000 square miles of once rich forests in Gaspe, and is spreading into Nova Scotia and further into Quebec.

LEAVITT TO HEAD SPANISH WAR VETS

Milwaukee, Wis., Man Named
Commander at Saratoga Springs Meeting.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Delegates to the 38th national encampment, United Spanish War Veterans, today elected and installed Scott Leavitt, of Milwaukee, Wis., commander in chief.

Other new officers include former State Senator Alfred L. Kennedy, New York, senior vice commander in chief; Thomas W. Payne, Detroit, junior vice commander in chief. They were unopposed.

Commander Leavitt succeeds Robert S. Cain, Pittsburgh, treasurer of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, as commander in chief.

Leavitt announced appointment of J. J. McDevitt, Milwaukee, adjutant general, and Harry R. Stevens, Great Falls, Mont., assistant adjutant general.

He reappointed Patrick J. Callan, quartermaster general, Harry R. Coulter, assistant, and Fred R. McKnight, chief musician, and named William Armstrong, Racine, Wis., advisor to the Sons of United Spanish War Veterans.

The delegates voted to meet August 21 to 26, 1937, in Columbus, Ohio.

lices of Swiss cheese and spread with a bit of chili sauce. Top with second slice of buttered rye bread.

Chicken Olivette Sandwiches—Combine 2 cups minced cold cooked chicken and 1 dozen stuffed Spanish olives finely chopped. Add sufficient mayonnaise to moisten filling so it will spread easily. Spread between slices of bread which have been spread lightly with mayonnaise. Remove crusts if dainty sandwiches are desired.

Special Roquefort Cheese Sandwiches—Cream 1-4 lb. Roquefort cheese and combine with 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 2 cups finely chopped celery. Spread between thin slices of buttered white bread and cut attractively.

Datie, Peanut Butter and Cream Cheese Sandwiches—Combine 4 tablespoons peanut butter, 2 dozen dates, ground, and 1 package soft cream cheese. Mix thoroughly. Spread between slices of white or whole wheat bread. Cut into dainty shapes, and chill.

Olive and Nut Sandwiches—Combine 1-2 cup chopped stuffed Spanish olives, 1-4 cup chopped nut meats, 1-4 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise. Spread between thin slices of buttered white bread. Cut crosswise in halves and arrange attractively on sandwich plate. (Trim crusts, if desired.)

Hot Dishes for Picnics. If you have large vacuum jars, you may serve any number of varied hot dishes at your picnic. Baked beans, savory stews, creamed chicken or sweetbreads, or spaghetti, are among the favorites. Here is a spaghetti dish that is easy to prepare and delicious.

Spaghetti and Ham En Casserole. Two cups spaghetti broken in pieces, 1 cup chopped cooked ham, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 cups thin white sauce, 1-3 cup fine bread crumbs. Break spaghetti in pieces and boil in salted water until tender. Drain and rinse in cold water. Arrange in greased baking dish alternate layers of spaghetti and ham, dotting each layer of spaghetti with butter. When all is used, pour over the white sauce seasoned with pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Sprinkle top with fine buttered crumbs and bake in an oven until done.

This dish may be ladled into the vacuum jar just before starting. It is delicious served with tomatoes stuffed with coleslaw. These may be prepared in advance and kept fresh with layers of paper.

Chili. Soak a pint of dried kidney beans over night. Brown a pound of chopped beef and a chopped onion in 4 tablespoons of fat. Add 2 teaspoons of flour to a can of tomatoes, mix well, and add to the meat. Add beans, one-half cup uncooked rice, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon chili powder, one-quarter teaspoon thyme, 1-8 teaspoon clove, and 1-1/2 pints of water or meat stock. Cook until it reaches the boiling point. Then pour into a casserole and cook very slowly for three or four one-half hours.

Pie for Turnovers. Two cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup shortening, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 3-4 cup milk or water. Sift dry ingredients. Add fork to cut in shortening. Add liquid. Stir. Roll out 1-4 inch thick on a floured board. Divide into 8 squares. On half of each square spread filling. Moisten edges of dough, lap over to form triangles and press firmly together. Bake in a hot oven 20 to 25 minutes. When cold they are delicious for picnics.

Chicken Filling for Turnovers. Shred cooked chicken or veal to make 1-1/2 cups. Add 1-2 cup thick gravy, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 hard cooked eggs diced and 2 tablespoons sliced pickles.

Ham Filling for Turnovers. Grind or mince 1-1/2 cups of cooked ham, mix to a paste with 3 tablespoons of mayonnaise and 1-2 teaspoon prepared mustard. Place a thin slice of American cheese in each turnover and cover with ham paste.

Barbecued Sandwiches. These require 1-1/2 pounds of round steak chopped fine or run through a food chopper, 2 medium size mildly flavored onions, 3 or 4 ripe hot tomatoes, salt, pepper and a generous supply of butter—at least 1-2 pound. Also baker's rolls which are to be slit in half through the center and toasted, if possible. Melt 1-4 pound of butter in a heavy skillet; season the meat, adding just a little grated onion and make up flat loose cakes about the diameter of the rolls. Slip the cakes into the hot butter and sizzle until brown and crusted. Meanwhile slice the onions wafer thin and the tomatoes a little thicker; remove cakes, add remainder of butter to the pan and melt. Dip the rolls in this and then put the sandwiches together in this way: First a half roll, a slice of onion, seasoning, meat cake, more seasoning, and top with remaining half of roll. These sandwiches are delicious if you prepare them over a picnic fire, but may be wrapped in paper and eaten cold also.

If building a camp fire appeals to you, try this menu:

Casserole. Potatoes cooked in milk; broiled lamb chops or small steak; buttered rolls (these may be toasted); fresh tomatoes; coffee, fresh fruit.

The potatoes should be prepared at home and left in the open until just before starting. Then wrap them in layers and layers of newspaper. When the fire is built you may set the casserole at one side and it will be piping hot when needed. This is the way to prepare them.

Casserole of Potatoes. Slice potatoes very thin into a casserole, adding an occasional layer of minced onion. Cover the potatoes with milk and dot with butter, season with salt and pepper and bake in a covered dish until done.

Broiled Chops or Steak. Build a good bed of coals, cover with a grill. (One of the grills from the gas stove, placed on rocks works like a charm.) When the fire has died down and there is a bed of brilliant coals, place steaks or chops directly on the grill. Turn twice, place on hot plates, season and serve.

Camp Fire Coffee. When your camp fire has a good start, place an old fashioned coffee pot at one side of the grill with coffee and cold water measured in to the quantity desired. As the rest of the meal is prepared, the fragrant coffee will be in preparation. Camp coffee never boils but reaches its full perfection by slow heating—a gentle simmer—that extracts the full flavor from the coffee bean.

COUNTY PHYSICIANS,

BOARD, AT FISH FRY

Fulton county physicians and commissioners were honor guests last night at a fish fry given in old Campbell county by Dr. W. R. Camp, a county doctor, who is the father of Lawrence S. Camp, United States district attorney.

Dr. Charles R. Adams, chairman of the board; Commissioners George F. Longino, J. A. Kinsdale, Ed L. Almand and Edwin F. Johnson, and County Clerk Frank R. Fling were invited in addition to the physicians. The affair was held at Dr. Camp's lake six miles from Fairburn.

FISH FRY PLANNED

Annual Elks' Affair Will Be Held Tomorrow.

Details for the Elks' fish fry, to be held at Grant park tomorrow, were completed yesterday at a meeting of the Elks' lodge, officials in charge of the fish fry announced.

Proceeds from the fish fry will be used for Christmas charity work sponsored each year by the Atlanta lodge. Officials announced that several thousand tickets had already been sold. Fish will be served from noon until 7 o'clock, it was announced. During the afternoon the fireman's band will give a concert and dancing is on the program from 7 until 11 o'clock. Bill Turner, in charge of arrangements, said.

M'RAE SAYS CHARGES

BY OPPONENT FALSE

William G. McRae, candidate for solicitor general, told employees of the Southern railway at the Inman Yards yesterday his platform has been misrepresented by his opponent.

The candidate said his opponent had charged he would not prosecute misdemeanor cases, but that as a matter of fact he had stated only felony cases would be tried in superior court. McRae asserted if he was elected he would have his investigators swear out accusations in Fulton criminal court for misdemeanors and would not indict such cases through the grand jury unless ordered to do so by the court.

He spoke last night at the Joe Brown Junior High school, and has a series of radio broadcasts scheduled.

SERVICES SET TODAY

FOR W. H. LANGFORD

Final rites for W. H. Langford, 82, of Chattahoochee avenue, East Point, who was found dead Wednesday at 190 Garnett street, S. W., will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the chapel of Harry G. Poole.

Mr. Langford is survived by his wife; three sons, Vernel, J. L. and Wade Langford, and four daughters, Mrs. L. Gibson, Mrs. R. V. Sweeney, Mrs. L. Lewis and Miss Betty Jo Langford.

Burial will be in Hill Crest cemetery.

HIGH-LOW LIGHTHOUSE. The lighthouse on tiny Laysan island in Hawaii is the highest and lowest in the United States. It stands 100 feet above the sea, higher than any other in American waters. But the lighthouse itself is only 100 feet high, lowest of its kind in the nation.

TALMADGE'S DECEIT PLAYED BY RUSSELL

letter. He never raised his voice about the bill. The man who wanted to prohibit the planting of any cotton at all wasn't interested in the farmers of Georgia.

"As far as the farmers of this state are concerned he still is in Florida and Cuba. It was not until he quit the President and quit the Democratic party to go chasing off to the Liberty League and to Philadelphia and to hold nut-grass-roots conventions that he decided he would attack this bill.

Cotton Prices Raised.
"You know that the processing taxes did nothing except raise the price of your cotton from 6 cents to 10 cents."

"That's what it did," shouted the farmers.

"And you know he speaks falsely when he says that Georgia was discriminated against. We stand fourth in spindles and mills and the tax was on the manufacturer. We made him pay four cents and sent that money to the farmer in benefit payments so he'd get a fair price for his cotton."

"I got mine," came the reply. "And I'm still getting it."

"And that's why Gene is mad," said the senator. "When the processing taxes were ruled out we had to go where the money was. And we went to the concentrated wealth, the wealth of the cotton ginners and the mill owners."

"And that's what Gene Talmadge got mad. He has been running on the wealth that sent him $41,000 to hold a nut-grass-roots convention at Macon, and we put a tax on them."

"And that's what Gene Talmadge got mad. He has been running on the wealth that sent him $41,000 to hold a nut-grass-roots convention at Macon, and we put a tax on them."

little more than she got back because other states didn't have the mills and the spindles and did have some cotton farmers."

It began to rain about 15 minutes before the senator finished his speech and he said he would hurry on.

"Go on, go on," shouted the crowd. "Don't stop."

Not a man or woman left during the rain and at the close of the meeting there was not a person to be seen who did not raise his or her hand in acknowledgment of his support of Senator Russell.

From Marietta the senator went to Dalton for his second of three speeches during the day.

DALTON AUDIENCE HEARS RUSSELL

DALTON, Ga., Sept. 3.—After speaking Wednesday within six miles of the Carolina line Senator Russell in a rapid move upon the political checkerboard brought his message to Dalton for his third speech.

Whitfield county in northwest Georgia, within a short distance of the Alabama and Tennessee lines. In early afternoon motorcades and farmers' cars and trucks and school buses from surrounding hills and valleys emptied themselves into Dalton's large city park.

Four years ago when I was a candidate for the senate, conditions were different from what they are today. No farm house had a coat of paint, there were no repairs. We saw the women and children of this state working in the sun picking cotton and yet they were not getting enough for it to buy clothes to wear.

"There were 13,000,000 people out of work. A few men had collected into their hands most of the wealth. And civilization was about to collapse and the people decided to have a change."

"That election in 1932 was a revolution, a peaceful revolution. Even the Republicans wanted a change and 5,000,000 of them voted for a man with heart and vision and they elected Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"I told you then I believed he would be elected and I asked for a chance to go there and help him in the job of bringing back this country."

Take Stock!

"I'll leave it to any fair-minded man in Georgia to sit down and take stock of his own affairs and those of his neighbors and see if conditions are not improved."

"Cotton has increased from 5 cents to 12 cents. And we know that corn and cottonseed and hogs have increased in price. And we know that any man who is willing to work can get a chance."

"We know we have a long way to go but that we have broken the back of the depression and that we can build this nation back."

"I am proud to have had a part in it. You sent me here as a Democrat and I come back to you as a Democrat."

"I come before you charged with having been true to my party and its administration. In other words, you are told that I ought not to be re-elected because I did not play the part of a Benedict Arnold and stab my president in the back."

"In the last governor's race, two years ago, Eugene Talmadge was praising Roosevelt. He said he was the President's best friend."

Crawled to President.

"He crawled right up on the President's coat tails. And the people re-elected him. And no sooner had he got your votes than he changed."

"No longer did he go around Georgia expressing concern over the plight of the farmers. No longer did he go about saying the Democratic party was the party of the common man."

"He started going east. And he visited the Liberty League and the wealthy industrialists in Philadelphia. And he said the Democratic party was a party of Communists."

"And he went to Springfield and he said the Democratic party was no longer able to run this country. And he put a wreath on the grave of Lincoln and prayed for another Lincoln to go into the White House. And he stood there and he cursed the President and Russell."

"He did it because some pigs and cows had been killed."

Meat Not Thrown Away.

"But Gene knows that meat was not thrown away as he claimed. It was given to the people to keep them from starving and the people were paid for it and they didn't have to give them up if they didn't want to."

"Roosevelt didn't change. He is the same man he was when Gene was trying to get on his coat tails in 1934."

"The Democratic party didn't change. It is still the party of the common man."

"Dick Russell didn't change. He remained true to his party and his state."

"But Gene changed. When he found out he couldn't take the federal relief money and take it for Tom Linder and himself, then he got mad and he turned against his party because he couldn't run it."

"I hold in my hands a copy of my opponent's platform. I want you to read it and see if you can find any plank in it which will benefit the common man. He didn't even mention the word farmer."

"He wrote that platform for the men in Wall Street who manipulate the cotton and the market."

"You produce wealth when you dig it out of the ground and when you work in the factory."

Exploiters Hit.

"For the first time we've got a chance to get back some of the money the gang has been taking by exploiting the farmers."

"We do that with the income tax. Gene wants to abolish it."

"That pays the farm benefits. That gives the soldiers their compensation. That keeps the soldiers' hospitals open."

"It keeps the schools going by the vocational school fund."

"It pays the money to help the blind and the crippled."

"You can't have a government with a heart unless you have the federal income tax."

"Gene has a platform which would abolish that tax. He says we are half of what a man makes. Well, we do, if he makes more than a million dollars a year. And that leaves him more than $800 a day to spend. He can't be hurt too much."

"The Georgia farmer and the average citizen isn't hurt. He wishes he had to pay it."

$60 For $7.

"We pay in about $7,000,000 in income tax and we get back $96,000,000. And if we had had a governor with a heart in him we'd have got the old-age pensions. We've got other benefits."

"Gene Talmadge has cost the people of this state millions of dollars. And the money that has come in here has come in here despite Gene Talmadge and not because of him."

"The south has been growing cotton all its life and the money has gone to Wall Street. And when they make a dollar out of cotton you can just figure there's a dollar you didn't get."

"Gene didn't decide all this tax was so bad until his Liberty League friends took him up on the mountain top."

"The crowd roared when the senator read a letter from Governor Talmadge, written about four years ago. It was an answer to a letter sent him by Senator Russell asking him what he thought about the AAA farm bill which included the processing tax."

"In his reply Talmadge said: 'Thank you for your letter and a copy of the farm bill. I am leaving for Cuba and Florida and will take the bill with me and I hope to have the opportunity to study it.'"

"He makes a false statement about that bill. He says we paid out more than we got back."

"He knows that we are the fourth state in spindles and mills. And that tax was a tax on the mills."

"We said if we can't pass a bill making the price of cotton ten cents we will tax the mills four cents and that will make the price 10 cents."

"We know that," said the crowd. "And that money came back to the cotton farmer as benefit payments. And the reason Georgia paid out a little more than she got back because other states didn't have the mills and the spindles and did have some cotton farmers."

It began to rain about 15 minutes before the senator finished his speech and he said he would hurry on.

WHITLEY DOMINATION OF ROAD BODY CHARGED

It was to clean out the Highway Department and establish this department on the basis of honesty and economy, rendering special favors to none, and that if a contractor was low bidder, he should be awarded the contract if he could make bond.

"Now in connection with this policy and principle as was fought by John Whitley and myself, I want to say that John Whitley and Eugene Talmadge have gone back on this principle for which the people voted in 1932 and I tell you that they have established an all-time record up to this date for being the most extravagant, wasteful and grafting administration in the history of Georgia.

"In making these charges I first call your attention to the fact that John Whitley was appointed chairman after the ousting of the old highway board with martial law and bayonets. You will recall that soldiers surrounded the Highway Department and state capitol and bayonets were flashed on all sides. Mr. Mangham set out to operate the Highway Department honestly. But because he would not submit to the tactics of John Whitley and the governor of Georgia, and because he would not do certain things that were dishonest and wrong, and rather than submit to a change in policies and principles, Mr. Mangham resigned as chairman of the Highway Department. Later on Mr. Mose Cox, state engineer, lost his job because he would not submit to the changed principles of the Governor and John Whitley. It was not Mr. Cox's idea to show any special favors, but to my own knowing I have sat by the telephone in the office of the Whitley Construction Company and heard conversations between Mose Cox and John Whitley, and I have heard John Whitley threaten to whip Mose Cox if Mr. Cox did not stop meddling with things that he was trying to put through, and one occasion we had been awarded a contract at Indian Springs, Ga., and the local sand on this job did not pass the highway standard test, but John Whitley used this sand regardless and this was one of the times I heard John Whitley tell Mr. Cox, state engineer, on the telephone that if Mr. Cox did not stop meddling with him that he stood a good chance of getting a beating. This is the contract that was awarded to the Whitley Construction Company and John Whitley. Eugene Talmadge had gained admission into the private highway offices and slipped out his own bid, which was not the low bid, but changed it to make it the low bid. He did this by changing two items, the items of grading the slopes and dressing the slopes.

Bid Change.

"On the morning of March 22, 1934, these bids were opened and the Hardaway Construction Company of Columbus, Georgia, was announced as the bidder by approximately two thousand dollars, but due to John Whitley's friendship with the new highway board and the Governor, he was allowed to change his bid and thereby make him automatically the low bidder by approximately two hundred and twenty dollars.

"In Lamar county in 1934 during the governor's race when Talmadge was running for re-election, we were working on a nine-mile project of concrete paving and 13 miles of gravel in Wilkes and McDuffie counties.

"The Whitley Construction Company was paying laborers five seven and a half, 10, 12, 12 and 15 cents per hour which was lower than the wages prescribed by the national recovery act, which price met with Governor Talmadge's principle which he had already stated that a working man in overhauls was not worth over a dollar a day.

Rescue of Outfits.

"The governor of this state did not go to the rescue of the poor man as he would have you believe. But instead he went to the rescue of John Whitley and permitted the highway department to complete the remainder of Lamar, McDuffie and Wilkes counties, which was approximately two miles and afterwards carried out the same two outfits of John Whitley's into Butts, Newton, Cobb and Cherokee counties and completed approximately 10 miles of pavement.

After the completion of this work the state highway board paid for the repair of the two outfits belonging to John Whitley in the amount of seven thousand dollars and they then paid John Whitley for the use of his two outfits thirty-six thousand dollars and the two outfits were not used by the state more than seven or eight weeks. This amount paid John Whitley was more than he could have made honestly on 30 miles of concrete pavement. In 1935, July 19, the state highway department had a letting which included a project in Burke for four miles of concrete road. The Clausen Lawrence Construction Company of Augusta, Georgia, was the low bidder and at this time I had become disinterested in the Whitley Construction Company and the policy which the Whitley Construction Company had practiced with the state highway board and the Governor's administration, and at this time I was verbally interested with Mr. Clausen, of the Burke county project.

Bid Thrown Out.

"On July 21, 1935, which was Sunday, I was at the home of John Whitley with my family and was invited to go with him to his camp on the Chattahoochee river and ask him if I was connected with the Clausen Lawrence Construction Company. I answered him that I was verbally connected with them and he stated to me then that the Clausen Lawrence Company was not a friend of the administration and that the state highway board on that account was going to throw out their bid. The state highway board did afterward actually throw out the bid of the Clausen Lawrence Company and readvertised this four-mile project, including an extension of seven miles with several other projects and on August 1, the state highway board received bids on Burke county, approximately 11 miles, and Twiggs county approximately 10 miles. The Whitley Construction Company was low bidder and was awarded the two contracts.

"Now I want to point out one of the many tricks that are used in the state highway department to the advantage of the friends of the Governor and to the disadvantage of honest contractors. The proposals which all contractors use in bidding on the job, which I have just referred to were made up by the highway board and in these proposals there was a special provision requiring all contractors to bid on these projects with the understanding that the successful bidder would be required to comply with a special provision which reads as follows:

"Paragraph 53-05 of the general specifications is modified to provide that forms for concrete pavement shall have a depth of not to exceed 7 inches and the width of the base in direct bearing on subgrade shall not be less than 8 inches."

Questioned on Forms.

"I was asked by Henry Clausen before he made out his bid if I thought John Whitley would be permitted to use the same form that he had been using. This was a trick form and was the kind that all contractors were in the habit of using. I stated to Mr. Clausen that I didn't believe that they would get that far with it and that I believed the state highway board would force John Whitley to secure a seven-inch form on these projects to comply with these special provisions.

"The cost of these forms is approximately $1 per foot and if John Whitley had been forced to use this form it would have cost him approximately $15,000 more. Clausen was around $16,000 or $17,000 high on this bid because of this form. John Whitley knew on that day that he was not going to be forced to buy these new forms and instead John Whitley bought a few sections with forms from the Campbell Construction Company, of Columbus, Ga., of the same type which he already had—that is, the same type of form only for the purpose of furnishing himself with forms because so many of his old ones had become useless because they had not been used for some while.

"This is just another example of how the highway board has manipulated things to the benefit of John Whitley and has given an unfair advantage and the sad thing about it is that nothing can apparently be done about it.

Engineers 'Afraid.'

"The Whitley Construction Company with the approval of the highway board have been permitted to go into every district in the state where the state highway department maintains engineers and I charge that these engineers are absolutely afraid not to do what John Whitley tells them to do. He selects his own inspectors and engineers on his jobs wherever he goes. While I was superintendent for him I was ordered to go to Macon on several occasions and ask for the men that suited him best on the job and on every occasion the request was always complied with.

"If the Whitley Construction Company wants to put in more stone and sand in the batches of concrete than what John Whitley tells them to do, they will do it. He selects his own inspectors and engineers on his jobs wherever he goes. While I was superintendent for him I was ordered to go to Macon on several occasions and ask for the men that suited him best on the job and on every occasion the request was always complied with.

Asphalt Costs.

"Now in this same July 19 letting, when the Burke county contract was thrown out, there were some several jobs of asphalt and lime rock under progress. I remember Sam E. Findley, of Atlanta, Ga., had a contract up in Cobb county through Smyrna, Ga. The State Highway Department paid for the Kentucky asphalt and did not allow any other type of asphalt except this type and the Alabama rock asphalt. Sam E. Findley was forced to pay upwards of $10 per ton for this material when he could have gone out in the market and bought any number of types of approved asphalt by the 48 states, including the approval by the state highway engineering department and also it was approved by the Bureau of Roads in Washington, D. C. All of these other types of asphalt are recognized all over the world as suitable highway material, but this wasteful highway department with our Governor and his pistols and bayonets have seen fit to pay more for a single brand of asphalt although other types are just as good.

Every one knows why they specify these particular types. They have gotten other brands of asphalt for approximately $6 per ton less so you see we must ask this question, 'Who got the money?'

"If the state highway board had asked for bids on all types of asphalt, the Kentucky and the Alabama asphalt, both of which have been priced down with those which had been excluded from advertising.

Required Graders.

"The Alabama rock asphalt and Kentucky rock asphalt were similar in quality, but the Alabama asphalt can be laid much easier than the Kentucky rock asphalt. The State Highway Department required all contractors to use motor patrol graders to surface this asphalt with and at the same time they required the contractor to get a surface that was to be as smooth as a billiard table. On the Sam E. Findley contract through Cobb county where they were using Kentucky rock asphalt they could not get surface suitable to the engineer. He was permitted to use a finishing machine built for this special purpose, and this finishing machine not only proved to the advantage of the contractor, but proved an advantage to the state, because it would strike off the asphalt and leave the thickness correct, and the surface suitable to the engineer.

"I went to Mr. Wilburn's office, who is the state highway chairman, and asked him to permit by special provision the use of this machine on all the projects that were then being advertised on July 19. And he stated that he was not going to allow this to be done.

"I stated to Mr. Wilburn that if he would make this change that he would be legally and honestly and could save the taxpayers of this state 25 per cent on the cost of laying this material, but he would not do it.

"In August, 1935, there were more lime rock jobs let with asphalt tops to be put on them and at this time the State Highway Board together with the Governor and his friends were in a predicament and they permitted the contractor to use any type of machine that would get results satisfactory to the engineer. But they continued to advertise the two special brands of asphalt and still continued to pay on the average of $11 per ton when they could have purchased it as good material for $6 per ton.

Leads in Department.

"I know that there have been many things that have happened in the State Highway Department that are not honest or all right. I know that Governor Talmadge is a party to these transactions. The Highway Department has been run for the benefit of John E. Whitley and a few of the Governor's close friends. I know that there have been a number of things that have happened in that somebody has gotten rich on the state highway business. I know that dishonest political greed and graft will be the result of this. I know that if Eugene Talmadge's candidate for governor is elected, I do not believe that the people of Georgia, who are aware of the graft, greed and corruption that exists in the Highway Department, will ever agree to a continuation of these policies by electing Redwine governor. I have felt that it is my duty to tell you some of the things I know about the State Highway Department and the way they let bids by charging their awarded contracts to their favorites.

a platform on the Muscogee county courthouse lawn.

There were both cheers and boos and at one time Talmadge said to those who attempted to shout back to him:

"You are not helping Russell by that. Paid hecklers never get anywhere."

Police, taking notice of a newspaper article yesterday requesting that there be no disturbance at the speaking, stationed themselves in the crowd and halted some of the demonstrators.

E. B. Newberry, Columbus executive secretary during 1934, handed the Governor a paper and requested that he read it in full.

Talmadge tossed it to newspapermen with the comment:

"Let the (Columbus) Enquirer print it."

The Governor engaged in conversation with Newberry, who said he asked for troops in August, 1934, and that they came in September.

"Yes, in September," the Governor agreed.

Newberry later said the troops were not called out until "after the September primary."

There were shouts of "Take him out, take him out."

"No, don't bother him," Talmadge interjected. "I've had several pleasant conversations with him. It's all right."

The exchange came at the close of Talmadge's speech.

Talmadge said Russell "is planning to contest my election when I have won September 9."

"He said it," the Governor added, "and it's the last mutterings of a beaten man."

Attacks Press.

The Governor attacked The Enquirer and The Atlanta Constitution, charging they were "on the New Deal pay roll."

"You need a man in the senate who will speak up," he said.

"They know Talmadge is going to stand on that McRae platform throughout this campaign and that I will be heard from down I there."

The Governor repeated his attack on the federal income tax, saying:

"Gene Page might lose his job but it would keep $9,000,000 in Georgia."

W. E. Page is collector of internal revenue for Georgia and president of the R. W. Page Corporation which publishes The Columbus Enquirer and The Columbus Ledger.

Dr. Homer M. Lynch, president of the Muscogee Talmadge Club, acted as master of ceremonies, and T. H. Fort, Columbus attorney, introduced Talmadge.

"The question of Father Coughlin was mentioned unofficially in my talks with the Holy Father. I had called Father Coughlin's attention to the impropriety of calling President Roosevelt a liar before I left for Europe and he apologized. The matter was never discussed with any Vatican officials unless I brought it up."

"The whole matter is dragged up because it is a presidential election year. Otherwise it would not be heard. Anyone could see the holy see did not approve of Father Coughlin's calling the President a liar, whether he deserved it or not. There are certain parts of Europe where they never heard of Father Coughlin."

Coughlin interrupted:

"They are all newspaper stories to sell papers, Bishop."

"It seems to me," Gallagher said, "that there must be big financial interests pushing this matter, trying to put Father Coughlin out. It's a newspaper hoax."

"The press," Coughlin said, "wants me to get off the air, but they want the freedom of the press for themselves."

"There is power behind the press, pushing," Gallagher said. "There must be powerful financial interests behind it—big money."

"I start broadcasting a week from Saturday, Bishop," Coughlin said.

"It is about time they had your side of the case," Gallagher replied.

"If there was no electioneering, you would hear little about it. It's all electioneering. I repeat, nothing has been done to restrain Father Coughlin."

Quoting Bible.

Coughlin said he was quoting the Bible when he called Mr. Roosevelt a liar and cited the second chapter of the second verse of Revelation, which reads, in part: "And thou hast tried them which say they are apostles and are not and hast found them liars."

When the Rex reached its pier, there were 500 persons, most of them members of Coughlin's National Union of Social Justice, waiting to hail the bishop and the priest. Gallagher spoke to them:

"It is the voice of God that comes to you from this great orator of Royal Oak. Rally behind him."

Coughlin brought the day to a close by announcing at a late press conference that he had changed his broadcast from Sunday to Saturday.

"I can't compete with baseball," he explained.

U. S. TO KEEP BILLION

when he estimated net new borrowing this fiscal year would aggregate $750,000,000.

If this figure holds, the September financing will constitute more than half, cutting demands on the money market for new funds during the remainder of the fiscal year to $350,000,000.

In his budget summary, the President announced the treasury's working balance would be curtailed by $1,100,000,000 during the year. He suggested that instead of borrowing new money, the government would use some of its cash on hand to meet the year's expenditures.

Morgenthau's announcement today, treasury officials said, was not in conflict with the chief executive's plan, because for some time the treasury balance has been running around $2,000,000,000, from which $1,100,000,000 could be used and still leave almost a billion.

Even a working balance of $1,000,000,000 they pointed out, is far more cash than the treasury kept on hand before the big financing operations of the New Deal.

Morgenthau explained today that already this fiscal year about $800,000,000 has been taken from the working balance. Treasury statements showed it had gone to cover the $358,000,000 deficit so far run up, and to meet more than $400,000,000 of bonus bond redemptions.

This leaves only $200,000,000 more to be used between now and next June 30, under the President's current plan.

Exclusive of funds which are specifically allocated, the balance is now about $1,300,000,000, and the $400,000,000 of new money is expected to bolster it to some extent.

The offering for new cash in mid-September will be next to the smallest since Morgenthau has assumed office. The smallest was $350,000,000 in December, 1933.

DEAD MAN AT WHEEL
KILLS 1 AND INJURES 3

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(P)—An automobile with a dead man at the wheel plunged across a crowded sidewalk on Eighth avenue, at 58th street, tonight, killing one pedestrian and injuring three others.

The dead man was Isidore Mosson, 56, identified from papers in his pocket as an executive of a New York lumber company. A City hospital doctor said he had died of natural causes.

Victims of the careening car were Isaac Margulies, 45, New York WPA theater project employee, who was killed, and George Colgan, 34, and Richard Dambrosio, 30, New York, and Morris Fisher, 31, of Newark, New Jersey.

Regarding the political campaign, Lewis said he planned to make a number of speeches for President Roosevelt, and will "pay particular attention to Pennsylvania."

Plans for Lewis to talk with James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, were cancelled as the industrial unionist leader desired to leave as soon as possible for Washington.

Referring to the suspension order against all unions connected with the C. I. O., Lewis said:

"One can only hope they are prepared to accept the responsibility of their own action. The only crime of which we are accused is the attempt to organize unorganized workers and make them members of the American Federation of Labor. If that be true, let Mr. Green (William Green, president of the A. F. of L.) make the most of it."

Lewis said it was "obvious" that the Florida convention would sustain the executive committee's suspension order.

LEWIS WILL NOT FIGHT TO STAY IN A. F. OF L.

Labor Leader Says C. I. O.
May Not Attend Tampa Meeting.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(P)—John L. Lewis, founder of the Committee for Industrial Organization, indicated on his return from Europe today that the 10 unions identified with the C. I. O., facing suspension Saturday from the American Federation of Labor, will not make a fight to stay in that body.

Speaking of the A. F. of L. convention in Tampa, Fla., in November, Lewis said: "It is questionable whether the C. I. O. will waste the train fare to go to that convention."

Manhattan, was met by Senator Joseph H. Guffey, of Pennsylvania, and Walter J. Jones, member of the finance committee of the Democratic national committee.

Plans for Lewis to talk with James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, were cancelled as the industrial unionist leader desired to leave as soon as possible for Washington.

FACTS

every driver should know

Deaths from automobile accidents at night have increased 37% in the past six years.

Deaths from daylight mishaps have decreased 12%.

In nearly all the reports of these nighttime accidents, there is evidence that someone was driving faster than his eyes could see, or into darkness that wasn't dispelled by headlights or highway illumination.

Human eyes are not like owl eyes. Light rays from headlights do not bend around curves or over hills.

The facts urge every driver who has any thought for himself and his fellowmen to slow down when the sun goes down; to have two self-imposed speed limits—one for clear days, a slower one for nights and bad weather.

Fear the dark as you would a fog, a snow, or a heavy rain.

BANDIT PAIR ASSAULTS DAIRY FIRM CASHIER

Victim Slugged and Robbed of $620 on Street By Unarmed Men.

Two unarmed bandits apparently carrying out well-laid plans, held up W. C. Walker, cashier of Foremost Dairies Company, on Ellis street at noon yesterday and escaped with a canvas sack containing $620.70 in checks and cash.

The cashier told police that he had just left the dairy office at 127 Ellis street, N. E., on his way to the bank, when the two young bandits assaulted him at Courtland street and Piedmont avenue. As one of the bandits, a stocky man, struck him on the arm, knocking him against a wall, his tall, slim companion snatched the sack and fled toward Houston street, Walker said.

Radio Patrolmen A. J. Coppenger and C. E. Hale drove to the scene and patrolled Ellis and Ivy streets where the men fled. They found no trace of the bandits.

Two armed bandits held up Will Green, attendant at a filling station at Connally and Fair street, and a customer, O. G. Powell, of Johnson City, Tenn., shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday morning and escaped after taking $5 in cash from each and an automatic pistol from a drawer in the office, according to police.

The bandits, in a maroon sedan, first had the gasoline tank filled, and then drew pistols, herded the victims into a rear room.

CHATTAHOOCHEE RIVER DEEPENING IS STUDIED

Hearings To Be Held at Albany and Columbus This Month.

Hearings on the feasibility of deepening channels of the Chattahoochee and Flint rivers from Columbus and Albany to the Gulf of Mexico, will be held this month, Frank K. Shaw, secretary of the industrial bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, announced yesterday.

Hearings will be held September 29 in Albany, and September 30 in Columbus, according to the announcement, with Colonel R. Park, district United States engineer, and his staff from Mobile, in charge.

"If the group is favorably impressed with the idea, they will recommend to Washington that the government provide the necessary funds with which to do the work," Shaw predicted. A questionnaire has been sent to all shippers in this vicinity in an effort to determine the tonnage of freight brought into and shipped from all points along the Chattahoochee and Flint rivers, he said.

J. W. Woodruff, president of the Chattahoochee Valley Chamber of Commerce, urged that all shippers cooperate in furnishing the committee of army engineers with any and all information that they desire, and to attend the hearings in Albany and Columbus.

Part of the plan to improve these rivers includes the provision of terminal facilities at seven points on the rivers, Shaw pointed out. These terminals will be at Fort Gaines, Eufaula, Albany, River Junction, Bainbridge, Columbus and Columbia. Royce Kershaw, engineer of the Chattahoochee Valley Chamber of Commerce, has just returned from a trip to all these points and has resolutions authorizing the construction of the terminal facilities at these points, Shaw said.

TOURISTS TO ENGLAND SHOW BIG INCREASE

LONDON, Sept. 4.—(UP)—Britain's tourist trade is almost back to pre-depression levels.

The number of visitors from the continent during the first half of this year was 147,560, compared with 147,803 in 1935, and 126,480 last year, according to the Travel and Industrial Development Association of Great Britain and Ireland.

The June figures show that holiday visitors from the United States increased by 4,023, compared with June last year. The total number of visitors during the month was 42,657, an increase of 5,121.

Candidates Thank Voters for Aid, Pledge Their Best Efforts to City

Candidates for various offices in the city Democratic primary Wednesday issued statements of thanks yesterday.

Henry B. Kennedy, nominated treasurer: "I desire to thank the voters of Atlanta for the confidence they showed in me and to pledge my every effort in the proper discharge of my duties."

G. Dan Bridges, nominated alderman from the first ward: "I am happy that the people have expressed their confidence in me, and assure them that I shall ever strive to be worthy of the trust."

John F. Scott, whom Bridges defeated: "I thank those who voted for me, and worked so loyally in my behalf."

Charles L. Chosewood: "I appreciate the fine exhibition of confidence given me in my first venture into politics, and I shall always cherish the fine friendships I made, striving at all times to be worthy of the trust given me."

William R. Johnson, veteran member of council who was nosed out in a race for council from the new second ward: "I bow with reverence to the will of the people, but I wish to take this opportunity of thanking those who stood so faithfully and loyally by my side."

W. Paul Carpenter, high vote getter for the councilmanic nomination from the new sixth ward: "I want to assure my friends and neighbors I will at all times appreciate the confidence shown me in the vote which I received, and if nominated in the runoff, pledge my best efforts in their behalf."

Miss Mamie L. Pitts, unsuccessful candidate for school board from the third ward: "I want to thank those who expressed their appreciation for my long service to the schools by voting to give me a place on the board."

The Rev. H. Jack Penn, who won the third ward board post: "I am grateful to my many friends and supporters for their loyal support, and shall continue to give my best efforts as a member of the board."

Mrs. J. E. Andrews, who lost a battle for the school board nomination from the first ward: "My charges about the schools can be proved. I thank those who supported me."

Roy E. Callaway, 29, salesman, will be the only man on the 1937 aldermanic board who has not seen service previously as a member of city council.

In addition, he may be the only new face in the entire composition of the city council. There are several council runovers, but few men who have never served there before are among the candidates.

Callaway is the son of Frank Callaway, a deputy sheriff, and is a nephew of Judge A. W. Callaway, of the recorder's court.

CLUBWOMEN RAP NAMING OF FRANK

Two Protest Decatur Man's Appointment to DeKalb Democratic Committee.

Criticism of the appointment of Vernon Frank, prominent Decatur businessman, to succeed Mel Turner on the DeKalb county Democratic executive committee, was made yesterday by heads of two women's organizations in DeKalb.

Mrs. Wellington Stevenson, president of the Woman's Democratic Club of DeKalb county, and Mrs. W. A. Ozmer, head of the Decatur League of Women Voters, protested the action of E. P. White, chairman of the executive committee, in naming Frank without holding a meeting of the committee.

White announced that there was not time to call a session of the entire committee and that he appointed Frank on a temporary basis, which he has the power to do under the laws and regulations of the executive committee. A permanent member for the post will be elected in the September 9 primary.

Turner, candidate for the legislature from DeKalb, resigned from the committee when Cecil Hall, an opponent, protested his being a committeeman and a candidate at the same time.

VANISHED BROKER FOUND IN JAIL CELL

Absent Seven Years, New Yorker Held at Memphis for Fraud.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 3.—(AP)—A 34-year-old man who said he was "Edwin Herder" and that he "vanished" seven years ago in New York after losing heavily in the stock market, "came to life" in a police cell today.

Arrested as "John Foster," his Memphis name, the prisoner told police he was an independent New York stock broker in 1922. He said he lost $75,000, "some of it belonging to friends."

He "disappeared," he said, "to avoid embarrassment." Detective Joe Feingold said he left a note indicating he would drown himself in the Hudson river.

"Herder" said he met his wife again two years later in Los Angeles where he adopted the name, George L. Case. Feingold said Dr. Howard L. Updegraff gave him 250 shares of stock to invest for him, and other money.

"I lost all of it and the doctor had me arrested," the defendant said. Released under $1,000 bond, he said he went to New York to raise money of to reimburse the physician, but failed, and started back "to face the music." Arriving in Memphis broke, he said he adopted the name of Foster and worked as a vacuum cleaner salesman. A complaint from his employer that he had kept $850 collected from purchasers led to his arrest.

All previous records for trout planting will be broken within the next few weeks when a total of 4,114,880 trout will be placed in the streams of Glacier park, Mont.

ROOSEVELT, LANDON CONFER UPON DROUGHT

dent mentioned the size of his fishing boat was that he had just been talking about what a relief it was to get away from Washington in a small boat and do his own cooking at sea.

"I can't recall specifically anything Mr. Landon said, but he and his President talked back and forth quite cordially.

The President told us of his tour through the drought states and how much he enjoyed it. He mentioned that the crops looked better as he came into Iowa.

The conference ended with a statement by Senator McGill, Democrat, Kansas, that all phases of the drought situation in Kansas were discussed informally but that no decisions of any sort were reached.

"It just went off like any other conference would go," McGill said.

The President did most of the talking. Landon asked a few questions.

The conference lasted about 40 minutes.

The Kansas senator said immediate drought relief needs were surveyed, as well as the long-range drought problem, and estimated that 21,000 of 171,000 farm families in the state would need relief during the winter.

Governor Landon said he had "had a very pleasant visit" which embraced "a broad general discussion of immediate emergency needs and a long-time program."

"What was your impression of Mr. Roosevelt?" a reporter asked the Republican candidate for the presidency.

"He is a very fine, charming gentleman," Landon replied.

The Kansas said he left a "memorandum" on drought relief with the President but declined to make it public.

To the first question about his conference, Landon replied:

"I had a very pleasant time, a very pleasant visit."

"Were your suggestions well received?"

"They were."

"Did you leave a report?"

"I left a report but it was largely covered by the President's outline of inquiry at the conference."

Part of the time during the luncheon, Governor Peterson said, "Governor Landon discussed oil wells and natural gas with Governor Cochran, of Nebraska, and Governor Marland, of Oklahoma."

Landon, dressed in a light tan summer suit and sailor straw, and Roosevelt, in a light grey suit and Panama, rode to their first meeting in automobiles down streets packed with shouting and whistling thousands.

Landon traversed the route about half an hour after the President went by. The Kansas governor drove the 270 miles from Topeka this morning. A state fair crowded the highways.

After the luncheon, at which the President and Landon sat three seats apart, Mr. Roosevelt sat down in Governor Clyde L. Herring's walnut-paneled private office and received one by one the governors of five states—in the order in which the commonwealths entered the Union—and discussed drought problems.

Landon Third.

Landon came third on the list. Governor Guy B. Park, of Missouri, was first, and Herring second. Then followed Governors R. L. Cochran, of Nebraska, and E. W. Marland, of Oklahoma.

Later, on the President's train, Governors Phil La Follette, of Wisconsin, and Hjalmar Peterson, of Minnesota, were received separately for similar conferences, after the President entertained all seven state heads.

Federal and state officials also interested in attempting to combat the ravages of drought sat in on the individual parties.

Mr. Roosevelt arrived in the gala atmosphere of Iowa's first city promptly at noon on the special train which is taking him on a 5,000-mile trip through sun-parched mountain and prairie states.

In the gubernatorial offices where the conferences got under way after the luncheon, the President was flanked by Secretary Wallace, WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, Resettlement Administrator Rexford G. Tugwell, Governor William I. Myers, of the Farm Credit Administration, and Director Robert Fechner, of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Landon brought along L. E. Call, W. E. Grimes and Harry Umberger, all of the Kansas State College, and George Kuapp, head of the water resources division of the state department of agriculture.

A befall of noise and confusion in the usually quiet rotunda of the capitol echoed outside the conference room, shut off with the rest of the Governor's suite by a heavy canvas curtain.

For the time being, the rotunda was converted into a pressroom for sources of reporters and photographers. Blinds on the conference chamber were drawn and guards patrolled outside the building.

With a proxy from Senator Burke, Democrat, Nebraska, a Nebraska farmer who once entertained Mr. Roosevelt at a chicken dinner, was one of the conferees. He was Gus Sumnick, a host to the Roosevelt party at his home in Douglas county, Nebraska, during the 1932 campaign.

Along with Governor Cochran, of Nebraska, he had ridden to Des Moines on the presidential train from Omaha.

Thousands Greet Roosevelt.

Stepping into his automobile at the station, the President was greeted by noisy thousands, a troop of cavalry at attention and a fanfare of bugles.

Through downtown streets he rode the 10 miles to the capitol. Flags were draped over the pathway, some of them carrying the words "Welcome to Des Moines" and a huge ear of corn.

Donkeys and sunflowers were sprinkled liberally through the crowd.

Starting out at 6:17 a. m. after a breakfast at the executive mansion with his four advisers, Landon and his eight-car motor caravan drew relatively little notice as it sped through Kansas and Missouri, passing large towns on the outskirts. The Governor had refused to make his route known in advance. He stopped for a shave, however, at Leon and soon scores stood around seeking a glimpse of him.

Landon was greeted outside Des Moines by Cyrus Leland, his official host here. Then the caravan drove over the same crowded streets the President had taken.

Arriving at the state house, Landon had to shove through the cheering crowd banked in front of the state house.

Although the day carried a distinctly holiday flavor for Des Moines, not a single band was in evidence because of the desire expressed on both sides to keep politics out of the drought discussion.

"Of course," Governor Herring had qualified, "every time the President or Governor Landon take off their hats there is some political effect."

"No Politics Anywhere."

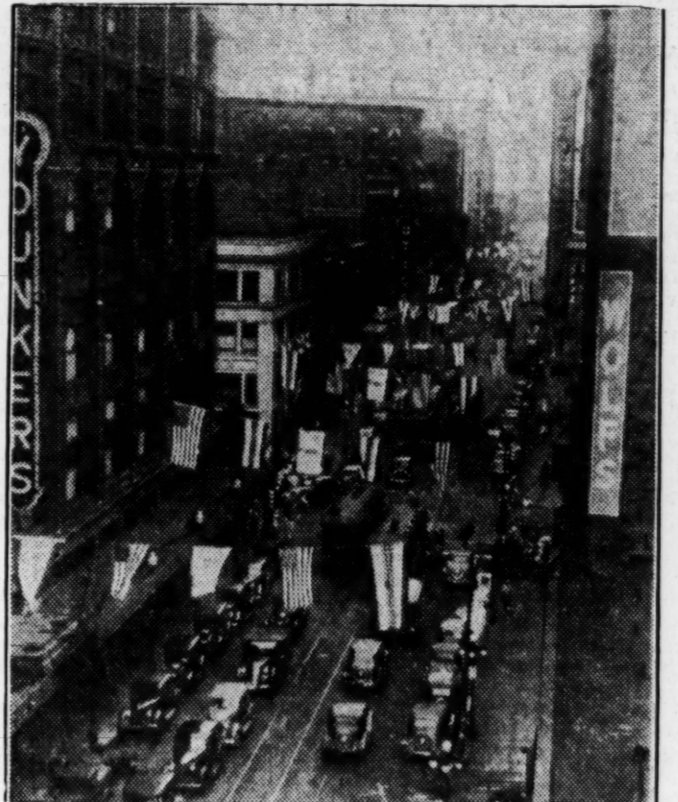

But just before he entered the dining room at the capitol, Senator Dickinson, Republican, Iowa, stepped up to a microphone to remark: "There's a splendid crowd here and no politics anywhere."

Herring and Mayor Joseph H. Allen, of Des Moines, rode in the presidential car from the station, down Walnut and Locust streets and up to the state house.

At the luncheon, Herring sat on the President's left, Peterson on his right. Governors Park, Landon, Marland and Federal Judge Charles A. Dewey were seated around the table on Peterson's right.

Some 60 guests were assembled at half a dozen other tables.

The family was said to be on its way to Richmond, traveling on Route 301.

Des Moines Bedecked for F. D. R. Parley

Fifty blocks in the business district of Des Moines, Iowa, took on holiday regalia for President Roosevelt's meeting with his presidential opponent, Governor Alf M. Landon, and chief executives of other western states, to discuss the drought tragedy. Associated Press photo.

DEATH TOLL IS 10 IN MINE EXPLOSION

Four Bodies, Last of Ten, Removed by Workers From Trapped Room.

LOGAN, W. Va., Sept. 3.—(AP)—From a little "room" piled almost ceiling-high with jagged pieces of slate and lumps of coal came bodies of four men today, the last of 10 who died as a gas explosion shattered part of the MacBeth mine.

The last four were found together in the center of the explosion area. They were killed by the shock of the blast. Six comrades died from gas fumes, which swept through the workings.

One hundred and ten others in the operation of the Hutchinson Coal company escaped. But they immediately turned their efforts to rescue work. The last four bodies taken out were those of Jack Atkins, 50, married and five children; Gus Mounts, 33, married and one child; Tom Miller, 25, married; Victor Corillo, 25, single.

With the appearance of the last body, J. F. White, state mine inspector, ordered the mine closed until Saturday when the state department will start an investigation of the cause.

Officials expressed a preliminary opinion that a spark from some source ignited gas in the mine, but reserved further comment until after the inquiry.

ELEEMOSYNARY PROGRAM. FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Kentucky's $4,000,000 eleemosynary rehabilitation program will get underway this fall. Governor Chandler announced tonight following a conference with Dr. Walter Treadway, surgeon-general of the United States, and other federal and state officials.

CITIZENS BUY MILL

Manchester, N. H., Group Reorganize Defunct Plant.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—A group of Manchester, N. H., citizens, backed by Manchester capital and motivated by a desire to keep their city a leading industrial community, today bought the defunct Amoskeag mills, one of the world's largest cotton textile plants, for $5,000,000.

Amoskeag Industries, Inc., the name under which Manchester bankers, industrialists and businessmen organized to find employment for fellow citizens, paid to Federal Trustee W. Parker Straw $500,000 as the first payment in the deal.

Arthur E. Moreau, president of the new corporation, said the transaction must be approved by Federal Judge George C. Sweeney, who approved a master's recommendation that the mills be liquidated.

Arthur Black, master in the reorganization case, has indicated he would approve the sale, Moreau said.

MRS. E. SATTERFIELD PASSES AT RESIDENCE

Mrs. Emma Satterfield, former resident of Cartersville, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. McTier Verner, 716 Oakland avenue, S. E., at the age of 77.

Mrs. Satterfield came to Atlanta nine years ago from Cartersville, where she was a member of the Methodist church. Besides her daughter, surviving are four nieces, three nephews and two grandchildren.

FINE FALL BUSINESS IS SEEN AT COLUMBUS

Big Increase in Bank Clearings and Construction Noted.

By EDGE REID,
Staff Writer, Columbus Ledger.
COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—Cheered by reports of record-breaking bank clearings in August, a substantial increase in building activity, and the beginning of the cotton season, Columbus business leaders predicted today fall business would be the best in years.

Bank clearings for August were the greatest since October, 1931. August clearings totaled $3,211,398.78 as compared to $2,442,590 for the same month in 1935.

A total of 124 building permits, aggregating $75,104, were issued during August. Twenty-four of the permits represented new building to cost $33,810.

Estimates by leaders in various lines indicated that the 1936 fall business will exceed the same period in 1935 from 20 to 40 per cent. With that prospect, merchants said they have new and larger stocks on their shelves than at any time since 1929.

Postal receipts for the past month showed a 12.4 per cent gain over August of last year.

N. R. Boyd, president of the Merchants' Association, Inc., predicted that fall mercantile business in Columbus will be better than since the peak year, 1929. He said some merchants dealing in certain classes of merchandise should have an increase over last fall of from 20 to 30 per cent and other groups from 30 to 40 per cent.

"Although we had a drought, I am confident that Columbus stores will enjoy splendid fall business—in fact, the best since 1929," Boyd said.

Secretary Walter P. Pike, of the Chamber of Commerce, said reports received by the organization indicate an increase of 20 to 40 per cent.

In view of the three-quarter-million gain in bank clearings, J. B. Key, president of a local bank, said he saw no reason why fall business should not be good and show an increase over the same period last year. He said the improvement is already noticeable.

"The production of cotton products here should be greater this fall," said Harry L. Williams, president of a manufacturing company. The local mills are now doing more business than last year and are reported to be running at near capacity, some using three shifts, to take care of production, he said.

100 Per cent Gain.

W. R. Rainey, superintendent of a showcase company, reported an increase of 100 per cent over last year in inquiries for new fixtures by business concerns. He points out that such inquiries constituted one of the best barometers of a rise in business activity.

An increase in the number of freight cars handled locally—so large that it required additions to the Central of Georgia freight staff—was reported by W. E. Dillard, agent. The usual force of 75 employees was increased to 91 Monday, he stated. The agent said business today is approximately 25 per cent greater in freight in the Columbus agency than at the same time last year.

GEORGIA PIONEER, J. F. MINIS, DIES

President of Railroad Passes at Clarksville Home.

CLARKSVILLE, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—J. F. Minis, 84, of Savannah, president of the Southwestern Railroad Company, of Macon, a Central of Georgia subsidiary, died at his summer home here today after a week's illness.

Funeral services will be held in Savannah tomorrow.

A native of Philadelphia, Mr. Minis has spent practically his entire life in Savannah where he was in the shipping business with his father, Abraham Minis, for a number of years. He also served as an alderman of Savannah, as chairman of the board of pilot commissioners, and president of the Savannah Cotton Exchange.

A master Mason and second oldest member of the Ancient Landmark Lodge, Mr. Minis will be interred following Masonic services.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary H. Haskell Minis; one brother, Abraham Minis, of Savannah, and two sisters, Miss Maria Minis, of Savannah, and Mrs. Charles Herby, of New York.

MRS. ANNE BILLING PASSES AT ATHENS

Rites for Prominent Member of Phinizy Family Set for Today.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—Mrs. Anne Phinizy Billing, 49, mother of Billups Johnson, of Augusta, died here today after a long illness.

Other survivors include her husband, J. M. Billing; a daughter, Miss Nell Johnson, of Athens; her mother, Mrs. Billups Phinizy, of Athens, and three sisters, Mrs. Hughes Spaulding, of Atlanta; Mrs. Malcolm Fortson, of Jacksonville, Fla.; and Mrs. Thomas Tillman, of Athens.

Funeral services were set for 11 a. m. tomorrow at the residence with Dr. E. L. Hill, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, to officiate. Burial will be in the Oconee Hill cemetery here.

Georgia Clay Is Used In Cocktail 'Shakers'

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., Sept. 3.

Repeal of the eighteenth amendment added life to an ancient industry in Georgia—the making of pottery by hand.

It has resulted in a marked demand, says W. T. B. Gordy, a potter, for cocktail shakers done in Georgia clay.

He makes shakers in various shapes, finished in glazed blue, green and yellow.

Twenty-six years old, Gordy is of a family of potters. His grandfather and father practiced the trade.

Gordy uses clay from Meriwether county in which President Roosevelt's "Little White House" is located. He likes it, he says, because it is extremely plastic, contains few foreign particles and dries readily.

First the clay is kneaded into a plastic mass and repeatedly thrown against a table top. Called wedging, this process causes foreign particles to work out.

The mass is then placed on the potter's wheel and moulded into the desired shape. After this it is allowed to dry for one week in open air.

The piece is given two "firings" in a kiln heated to extremely high temperatures and later dipped in a ceramic glaze solution to provide color.

GEORGIA OYSTER BAN IS BLAMED ON LINDER

Savannah Packer Says Industry Being 'Smothered' By Officials.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—Circumstances concerning the oyster ostracism of the Georgia oyster drew an exchange of statements today between Joseph O. Maggioni, oyster packer here, and Tom Maggioni, state commissioner of agriculture.

Maggioni, in a statement, charged Linder and Governor Talma had failed to remedy the situation. Linder said it was "just a lot of bullhockey."

The controversy centers about an inspector for the coastal oyster industry, and, as a result, Georgia oysters, Maggioni said, cannot be handled interstate commerce.

The United States Public Health Service says the inspector is "well qualified to do the work and the federal authorities are just trying to tell me who to name—in other words, they want to name employees of my department and they can't do it."

Maggioni said Linder had designated Clark for the post, but that actually the work was being done by someone else. He said representatives of the oyster industry last November asked assistance from Linder and Talma.

"Each of these officials declined to comply with the requirements of the United States Public Health authorities that a competent sanitary engineer or chemist, experienced in health matters, would be satisfactory," Maggioni said.

"Is one of Georgia's large industries to be smothered because the officials in charge desire obstinately to buck the requirements of public health and sanitation, solely for political reasons?"

Linder said Clark "went to Savannah and found the Savannah river and the Altamaha river still running in the same direction. He goes there as often as, in his judgment, is necessary. If they don't think Dr. Clark is qualified, they ought to say so."

STATE BRIEFS

BEER, WINE SALE RESTRICTED.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—City council last night voted to prohibit the sale of beer and wine within the Athens city limits on Sundays.

A resolution was also adopted asking the county commissioners to take similar action within Clarke county.

MANY WOMEN REGISTER.

KILDARE, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—Interest of women of this section in the present political races is reflected by an increase of women's names on the list of registered voters.

LABOR DAY EVENTS.

GLENNVILLE, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—The Glennville Country Club will sponsor a swimming and diving meet here Labor Day with competition in three classes for children between the ages of 8 and 16.

EDUCATORS TO MEET.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—Teachers and school officials of 20 counties will gather here September 16 for the eighth district meeting of the Georgia Education Association.

A night football game between the Waycross and Albany high school teams will afford entertainment for the delegates.

BITTEN BY SPIDER.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—J. I. Beinson, member of the Basley CCC camp, recovered from the effects of a black widow spider bite after treatment at a hospital here.

TO SCRAP CARS.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—The Atlantic Coast Line railroad has let a contract for scrapping of 500 freight cars here. A Chicago company will undertake the work.

BISHOP TO PREACH.

ELBERTON, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of the north Georgia conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will speak Sunday, September 20, at the First Methodist church here.

He also will conduct a conference on the preceding day with ministers and laymen of this section.

PASTOR IS ILL.

MOULTREE, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—Dr. R. C. Gresham, pastor of the First Baptist church, and member of the Georgia Baptist convention, is seriously ill in a Thomasville hospital. He has not been in robust health in a number of months, and recently spent several weeks in the mountains. Upon his return, however, his condition was such that he was carried to a hospital.

REUNION FUND VOTED.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—The Richmond county commission voted $5,000 to help defray expenses of the Confederate veterans' reunion to be held here next month. The action came after city council appropriated $500 contingent upon the county matching the sum.

LIONS PUSH LIVESTOCK.

GREENSBORO, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—The Greensboro Lions Club announced plans to hold a livestock meeting here in the near future to stimulate interest in that branch of farm activity. Cattle on farms in Greene county increased 54 per cent from 1930 to 1935, the federal farm census revealed.

NAMED ARMY NURSE.

WEST POINT, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—Miss Annette Harston, of Long Cane, left for Indianapolis to take up her duties as an army nurse. She received notice of her assignment to the Indiana city and of promotion to the rank of second lieutenant on her birthday.

She recently was nurse for the CCC camp at Fort Benning.

WILD LIFE CONSERVATION.

ROME, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—Three 4-H Club members of Floyd county will appear before all civic clubs here to outline a wild life conservation program for the entire county. The three, John Dempsey, Mary Whittier and Emily Clement, recently attended a conservation camp at Warm Springs on a Rome Chamber of Commerce scholarship.

RITTER FILES CONTEST OF SENATE CONVICTION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(P)—Halsted L. Ritter, ousted Miami, Fla., federal judge, contended before the court of claims today that his conviction by the senate on impeachment charges violated the constitutional guarantee against being placed in jeopardy twice for the same offense.

In a 96-page answer to Attorney General Cummings' motion to dismiss proceedings attacking the senate's action, the former judge contended he was removed from office on a final article of impeachment which only summed up the six counts on which he already had been acquitted.

LIVESTOCK SALES OPEN AT VALDOSTA

Bidding Brisk and Prices Satisfactory at First Auction.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—Formal opening of a local livestock company brought a large crowd of farmers, stock breeders and buyers here today to attend the initial auctions of the new business.

Pens were filled with cattle, hogs, mules, horses and other animals. The bidding was brisk and prices generally satisfactory.

A large number of persons prominently identified with the livestock industry in this section attended the auctions and made short talks before the sales began.

Among those speaking were Mayor J. D. Ashley, who welcomed the industry and the visitors here; R. E. Miller, Lowndes county farm agent; V. W. Lewis, general livestock agent of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad; Alex. Meddin, Savannah, and A. V. Johnson, of Moultrie.

A feature of the opening was a barbecue dinner served to all present. The company has installed a modern livestock auction plant here and the most approved methods of sale are to be followed.

AUTO INJURIES FATAL TO MACON SALESMAN

ALBANY, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—B. W. Barfield, Macon, traveling salesman, died last night from injuries received in an automobile accident five miles south of here in which Dr. Pike Adair, and his sister, Miss Ella Adair, of Lakeland, Fla., were slightly injured.

City Officer Gordon Stokes said Mr. Barfield was changing a flat tire on his car, when the car driven by Dr. Adair, crashed into the back of it, pinning Mr. Barfield between the two cars.

Stokes said Dr. Adair told investigators he was blinded by the lights of an approaching automobile and was unable to see Mr. Barfield or his car.

DIES AT AGE OF 102

Daughter of War of 1812 Passes at Dublin.

DUBLIN, Ga., Sept. 3.—(P)—Mrs. Caroline Barwick Kea, 102, died here this afternoon. She was one of five real daughters of the War of 1812 who resided in Georgia. Her mind remained active until a few months ago when she suffered a stroke. It is believed she was the oldest Georgia woman citizen.

"Hospital's Deplorable Condition Suppressed by Governor"—Rivers

Candidate Charges Economies Practiced at Risk of Patients' Lives; Poorly Paid Workers Forced to Buy Insurance From Talmadge Henchman.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Sept. 3.—Charging that the report of Governor Talmadge's personally appointed superintendent is so damning that it was suppressed in Atlanta, Speaker E. D. Rivers tonight promised to provide adequate facilities for the more than 6,000 patients confined in the Milledgeville State hospital.

Rivers broadened his charges against the Talmadge administration, which Senator Charles D. Redwine has announced he will continue, by declaring that the hundreds of employees of the hospital have had their wages reduced to such a point that they themselves are as bad off as the patients and that they have been forced to buy insurance, paid for out of these wages, from E. E. Lindsay, the Talmadge-appointed chairman of the board of control.

"I want to pay high tribute to Dr. John W. Odum, the superintendent of the hospital," Speaker Rivers said. "You people here in Milledgeville know and the families of the persons confined in this hospital know, that he is doing everything he can do for his patients but you also know that he is handicapped by an administration, reeking with greed and determined to make a record of economy at the risk of the hundreds of people who are sent here for treatment."

Report Suppressed. Speaker Rivers declared that the superintendent revealed conditions as they actually are in his report to the State Board of Control but by Governor Talmadge's direction the report was suppressed.

"They fired Dr. R. C. Swint and put Dr. Odum in his place," the Lakeland gubernatorial candidate declared. "Dr. Odum tried his best to clean up the mess he found but he soon learned that the fault was in the state capital at Atlanta. I know how terrible he painted conditions in the institution and how strongly he urged that they be remedied. Nothing has been done. Instead the report of this able servant has been hid away in the archives of the Board of Control, where it will be seen until Talmadge and his horde of politicians have been cleared out of the capital. Then the true light will be shed on this situation and then we will see to it that the patients here have the care and the medical attention they need."

Speaker Rivers stressed his approval of the work of Dr. Odum.

Reforms Promised. "I think that the employees of the institution and the people who come here to visit their relatives realize just what he is up against. When I become governor I am going to use my influence for good on the State Board of Control and I promise the people of Milledgeville and the people of Georgia that we will have an institution here of which we shall all be proud."

Speaker Rivers made pointed references to the selling of insurance by Lindsay and his associates.

"Everyone out at that hospital knows that Lindsay is the big boss and when he came to sell them insurance they knew what they had to do," the speaker declared. "The people of Milledgeville were quick to expose this form of graft and it has been stopped for the duration of the campaign at least. If 'Me Too' Redwine is elected next week you know it will be resumed immediately and on a larger scale. They day of reckoning is coming, however. Redwine is going to be ignominiously defeated."

Speaker Rivers said that Redwine's promise to follow the principles of the Board of Control and to promise certain that conditions here would continue unchanged under his administration.

The only safe thing for the people of Georgia to do is to turn Talmadge out forever and send him back to Sugar Creek, where he belongs," the speaker declared. "I will take many years for the state to recover from his regime of ruin."

ED RIVERS ADDRESSES SANDERSVILLE RALLY. SANDERSVILLE, Ga., Sept. 3.—"The people of Washington county want Ed Rivers as governor because he stands for government by the people and for humanity," the Rev. Joseph M. Branch, prominent Baptist minister, said here this morning in introducing Mr. Rivers as "Georgia's next governor." J. C. Godfrey, prominent farmer and leader in this county, spoke first. He said: "When this race began I had some respect for Judge Fortson, of Athens, but since the race has been in progress certain dishonorable actions by the judge from Athens make it so that I have absolutely no respect for him and I find that many others who were going to vote for Fortson feel likewise."

Mr. Rivers outlined his program and platform calling for old-age pensions, free schoolbooks, improved rural routes, improved health conditions at state institutions, constitutional government by law instead of bayonets and progressive humanitarian government through co-operation with President Roosevelt's administration.

Victory Predicted.

"I find on every hand indications that next Wednesday the people of Georgia are going to roll up an overwhelming victory for those of us who represent the Democratic party and principles of government to help humanity," the speaker of the Georgia house said.

"This is the first time Georgia's Democracy has ever been threatened. It is also the first time Georgia has been in position to get unusually good treatment at the hands of a United States President who calls Georgia his southern home. After next Wednesday we are going to begin laying the foundation for a government entirely operated by Democrats in Georgia. Then on January 1 we are going to clean out Talmadgeism and all that it represents and have government to help humanity. We are going to have old-age pensions on January 1 through the provisions of the President's temporary pension clause in the social security bill and we are going to have permanent pensions for our aged without paying any poll taxes, sales taxes, per capita taxes and without giving it all to the negro."

Mr. Rivers tomorrow goes to Washington, Judge Fortson's home county.

FARMERS NEED HELP, DROUGHT SURVEY SHOWS

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 3.—(AP)—R. W. Hudgens, Rural Resettlement Administrator for the southeastern region, reported after a survey of drought conditions in east Georgia and western South Carolina that farmers of several counties needed immediate subsistence aid.

The report followed a survey of conditions to determine feasibility of employing farm labor in clearing the basin land of the proposed Clarks Hill, 22 miles above here on the Savannah river.

Mayor Richard E. Allen Jr. said he planned to urge the federal government to obtain title to the land and begin the clearance project.

Hudgens' report said 600 farmers in Elbert and Lincoln counties need help, while 1,500 should have aid in McCormick county, South Carolina.

SNAKE BITE CLINIC.

One of the oldest clinics in the world, for the treatment of snake bites, is being built in the village of Davalu near Erivan, U. S. S. R. It was started by an old Russian, Diavara, who after being bitten many times by reptiles, developed an immunity to their poison which enabled her to heal others by injection of her serum.

Mr. Rivers discussed rural route improvements and the "much needed" improvement at our state health institutions. President Roosevelt has set aside money to help the blind, the crippled, and to help with the health of the state. Other states are getting this money but Georgia has not had any of it because the present administration is lined up with those rich Wall Street-Raskob boys.

Mr. Rivers said the call to arms for Democracy in our state and every hand in the audience went up when he asked "How many are going to go out and work to help us in this campaign to win a big victory on next Wednesday?"

"I am grateful for the way in which the loyal Democrats are helping us in this fight. Every report I have received in the past few days indicates that our campaign is still gaining an even longer lead than we have had before. I can see only a landslide next week," he said.

He blasted the various claims of his opponents that the state would not be had in Georgia by citing the fact that 38 states now have old age pensions and "if there was anything wrong with them we would have it out before the closing days of a hot political campaign in Georgia."

"We are going to make Georgia government a government for humanity, a government for the people. We are going to have old age pensions in Georgia without any sales tax, per capita tax, poll tax and without it all going to the negroes as our present administration is doing."

We are going to have free school books, a full-length term of school and we are going to have government by the people instead of the bayonet. We are going to take Georgia out of the hands of these representatives of Wall Street and restore it to the Democrats of our state," he said.

BRITISH BODY STUDIES SITUATION IN PALESTINE

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Maneuvers for the first army division, scheduled to begin tomorrow at Sussex, were controlled suddenly tonight by the war office announced it was considering the question of reinforcements in troubled Palestine.

It was understood the Palestine trouble, aggravated by a prolonged Arab strike against Jewish immigration and by weeks of guerrilla warfare and sabotage, was discussed at yesterday's cabinet meeting.

Dispatches from Jerusalem today said the British flying officer Thome B. Hunter and his gunner, E. G. Lincoln, had been killed in the crash of a military plane during one of the daily flights with Arab terrorists near Zulkarna.

Another pilot was shot in the leg but landed safely.

MRS. QUARLES DRAFTED FOR SPEAKERS' BUREAU

Mrs. Boyd Quarles, of Decatur, seeking a seat in the state legislature from DeKalb county, has been appointed to the speakers' bureau of the Democratic party, it was announced yesterday.

Mrs. Quarles, the only woman in DeKalb county ever to run for an elective office, is the only Georgia woman ever to be appointed to the men's division of the Democratic party's speakers' bureau.

Part of Mrs. Quarles' duties will be to tour the west and south, speaking in behalf of the party's candidates. Projects that she will speak in California and Kansas. After leaving her speak at the recent Democratic national convention at Philadelphia, Senator Dixie of Kansas, made a special request to the speakers' bureau for Mrs. Quarles' services.

'FREEZE OUT' CHARGED BY SENATE CANDIDATE

Charges that the thirty-fifth district senatorial committee attempted to "freeze out" possible candidates from Clayton county in opposition to G. Everett Millican, were made yesterday by T. Q. Sullivan, of Clayton county, who is running for state senator.

Sullivan, in a statement, declared the committee not only was unfair in shunning the opposition but also in electing the thirty-fifth senator, but also that Millican had broken a gentleman's agreement when he entered for re-election.

50 ATLANTA GIRLS COMPETE TONIGHT

American Legion Beauty Contest Will Be Held at Venetian Club.

More than 50 Atlanta beauties will compete at 8:30 o'clock tonight for the title, "Miss American Legion of 1936," in the beauty contest sponsored by Atlanta Post No. 1, of the American Legion, at the Venetian Country Club, post officials estimated last night after entries had closed.

Proceeds of the contest, which was postponed from last Friday night because of rain, will be used to send the post's drum and bugle corps to Cleveland. Following an exhibition by the drum and bugle corps, a water carnival, in which Atlanta stars will participate, will be held.

Judges for the contest are Charles Allen, of the Metropolitan Opera house; Guy Butler, of the Atlanta Journal; Ralph McGill, of the Atlanta Constitution; W. S. Kirkpatrick, of the Atlanta Georgian, and J. C. Bodenstien.

About 72 business firms have either entered girls to compete for the title or assisted the post with finances.

LARSEN JOINS RIVERS ON DUBLIN PLATFORM

Former Candidate, Withdrawn, Gives Support of Presence to Opponent.

DUBLIN, Ga., Sept. 3.—Judge W. W. Larsen, who withdrew from the governor's race some time ago in the interests of uniting the Roosevelt forces in Georgia, sat on the platform with Speaker E. D. Rivers as he spoke to a crowd of several thousand here today.

Judge Larsen and Mr. Rivers conferred before the speech and newspapermen snapped pictures of them. Rufus Stephens, representative in the legislature from this county, delivered a stirring appeal to the crowd before Mr. Rivers spoke.

With Governor Talmadge so long as he claimed to be helping the state, but when he went off with the Republicans and enemies of our great President Roosevelt, we must wipe out Talmadgeism and restore a constitutional government that will help people," he said.

Judge Earl Camp, a former Larsen campaign manager, also spoke.

Judge John D. Adams, prominent leader of Laurens county, introduced "Governor" Rivers. Judge Adams was a supporter of Judge Fortson, of Athens, until a few weeks ago.

Mr. Rivers sounded the call to arms for Democracy in our state and every hand in the audience went up when he asked "How many are going to go out and work to help us in this campaign to win a big victory on next Wednesday?"

"I am grateful for the way in which the loyal Democrats are helping us in this fight. Every report I have received in the past few days indicates that our campaign is still gaining an even longer lead than we have had before. I can see only a landslide next week," he said.

Long-Style Dictatorship Is Feared By Marion Smith If 'Me Too' Wins

Georgia's future is in grave peril if the Talmadge administration continues in power four more years, Marion Smith, prominent Atlanta lawyer and former chairman of the board of regents of the University System said last night in a radio address in the interest of the gubernatorial candidacy of Speaker E. D. Rivers.

"Doubtless the people of Louisiana once thought that there could be no real dictatorship established in any American state," the attorney declared, adding that they lived to see a "dummy" governor's office and the courts as well as all other functions of government under the control of one man.

Speaking over radio station WSB, Mr. Smith highly praised the public record of Speaker Rivers and declared that he is the best man in the state for governor.

"I welcome this election as a new deal in the state of Georgia," Mr. Smith said. "The ill-advised effort to divide the people in their opposition to the Talmadge reign has collapsed. On September 9 the men and women of this state, true to the tradition of their forefathers and loyal to the great Democratic party, will by their ballots elect E. D. Rivers governor of this state and will repudiate Talmadge, his heirs and assigns, forever."

Text of Speech. In his speech, Mr. Smith said: "In the approaching primary election the state of Georgia faces the gravest crisis which it has been called upon to face in public affairs since the Reconstruction government of the carpetbaggers and scalawags was overthrown."

"The crisis is in many respects similar to the issues our forefathers faced when they reclaimed the state of Georgia from the lawless, corrupt government of the Reconstruction period. We are to determine in this election whether the people of Georgia will re-establish lawful, constitutional government in this state in place of a lawless, corrupt dictatorship, which, great as the crimes of the Reconstruction government were, does not hesitate to use bayonets to accomplish its illegal purposes."

We are to determine whether the people of Georgia will remain true and loyal to the great Democratic party, which enabled us to reclaim the state from carpetbaggers and scalawags, and which has always been the friend of the southern people.

Dictators Unwanted. "I am one of those who believe most deeply that lawful, constitutional government is our most precious heritage and that we have no use for dictators in the state of Georgia. I believe that the real interests of this state and of the nation as a whole can best be served by a loyal support of the Democratic party and of the great humanitarian principles of President Roosevelt. I know the overwhelming majority of the men and women of this state feel as I do. I have no personal interest to serve, and no political ambitions to forward. From that standpoint, I welcome the opportunity to talk briefly over the radio to those who feel as I do throughout the state, and to bring to them briefly the reasons which have convinced me that all of us should unite in support of E. D. Rivers for governor of this state."

"Do not underestimate the vital seriousness of the crisis we face, and above all do not make the mistake of believing that a lawless dictatorship cannot be fastened upon our state if the Talmadge gang control this election."

Rise of Power Traced. "Doubtless the people of Louisiana at one time felt that no real dictatorship could be established in any American state, but when Huey Long went to the senate and succeeded in naming his own dummy for governor, the people of that state found themselves subjected to a dictatorship as complete and as lawless, and as cruel, as ever existed in any Central American banana republic. By that time the citizens of that state had embraced also the courts, and the election machinery of that state, and there was no lawful way for their resentment of the dictatorship to be expressed themselves at the polls."

"Fortunately we have not yet reached that point in time when the Talmadge should succeed in his program of placing his own dummy in charge of the government of Georgia, and of the party machinery of the citizens of Louisiana to express themselves at the polls."

"When Mr. Redwine proclaims as his platform 'letting things alone,' everything Talmadge has done, and his purpose to follow the same policies, we are entitled to ask what these things are that are approved by the people."

Which the next legislature will be asked to ratify, and the policies which Mr. Redwine declares he would follow if elected.

"Only the briefest statement is possible in my time. Fortunately, only a brief statement is necessary. The efforts of the present Governor to create himself an absolute dictator of this state are known to all of us."

Scoffed at Law. "He caused the defeat of a lawful appropriation bill, so that he could substitute his own wishes as to how the funds of the state should be spent."

"He has spent the funds of this state without authority of law and in violation of the law and of the constitution of the state."

"He has removed from office public officials elected by the people of this state, whose only offense was that they observed their oath of office and refused to submit to his dictatorship."

"He has removed many other public officers who refused to bow down and worship him."

"He has used the armed national guard of the state in time of peace and when no disturbance existed merely to carry out his bayonet rule his own lawless purposes."

"He has led all others in the United States in bitter and unjust assaults upon the Democratic administration, and upon its great President."

Funds From F. D. R. Foes. "He has received large sums of money from Raskob, du Pont, the Liberty League, and other bitter enemies of Democracy, paid to him to aid in his bitter fight on the national administration of President Roosevelt."

"He has surrounded himself with a group who bow down to him day and night because of the financial profits they make through his control of the state government."

"He himself has invested, according to public records, far more money in lands than could be accounted for from his salary and farming operations."

"He now proposes to occupy the governorship after the end of his term by appointing his successor, who qualifies solely by saying blindly, 'me too.'"

"During his administration the men and women of this state, in increasing numbers, have come to look with horror upon what was happening in their state government. When they were faced with the prospect of a continuation of these conditions through a dummy governor it was only natural that they began to look for a leader to carry the banner of those who believe in lawful, constitutional government, and in supporting the great Democratic President. In overwhelming numbers they have accepted Ed Rivers as their leader and are moving forward under the banner he has unfurled."

"The presence of Judge Fortson in the race is, of course, unfortunate. Some of the things his ill-advised managers have done in his name are even more unfortunate. But, in spite of my personal liking and respect for him, I cannot at the present time be a party to dividing the opposition to the Talmadge rule in Georgia. There is just as much chance of Judge Fortson being elected governor of Massachusetts as there is of his being elected governor of Georgia. Every one not wilfully blind must see this, and must therefore see that his continuation in the race, if it has any effect at all, can only to that extent be an aid to the Talmadge machine."

Rivers Is Leader. "In this emergency which confronts the state the vast majority of the men and women of Georgia, who feel as I do, have turned to Ed Rivers as their leader. The magnificent fight he has made has abundantly justified the confidence which they have imposed upon him."

"It was natural that they should have turned to him. Although still a young man, he has for years been an outstanding figure in the public life of this state. His thorough knowledge of public affairs, his ability, admitted by his worst enemies, his wide acquaintance throughout the state, and above all, his loyal adherence to the fundamental principles on which our fight is based, made it certain from the start that he would be accepted as the logical leader in that fight."

"Those on this side of the fight against Talmadge and his gang remember above everything else that Ed Rivers was the first political leader in Georgia to stake his whole future on an open fight with Talmadge. He took his stand in opposition to Talmadge before the last session of the general assembly had ended, at a time when Talmadge was at the crest of his power, and when it took courage of the highest order for anyone in public life in Georgia to challenge his dictatorship."

"The issue arose when Ed Rivers

BOYKIN IS PRAISED

Merchant, Lawyer Laud Solicitor General.

L. P. Taylor, Atlanta merchant, and Henry A. Bowden, prominent young lawyer, praised the record of Solicitor General John A. Boykin in radio speeches last night.

Considering the services Boykin has rendered from the standpoint of the merchant, Taylor expressed appreciation for the efficiency with which the solicitor general has virtually stamped out the fake damage claim racket in Atlanta.

Bowden appealed to the younger voters to support Boykin in the September 9 primary, and cited some of the important cases Boykin has prosecuted. He mentioned the "bunco" game, the city hall graft probe and the fake damage claim racket.

Solicitor Boykin will speak over the radio Saturday night. His address will be heard at 8:30 o'clock. Robert C. Alston, former president of the Atlanta Bar Association, former head of the Georgia Bar Association, and a prominent member of the American bar, will introduce him.

FORTSON WILL SPEAK IN DECATUR TONIGHT

Judge Blanton Fortson will speak at Decatur tonight at 8 o'clock, his headquarters announced last night. The candidate will be introduced by William D. Thompson, former president of the Atlanta Bar Association.

The meeting will be held at the Decatur courthouse and several prominent men will speak prior to the Fortson address. Fortson speaks at Gainesville at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

URGES STATE LOTTERIES. Forty-seven years ago North Dakota State Senator Jerry Stevens, now 82, introduced the first North Dakota legislature for legal lotteries and he now is advancing approval of lotteries as a cure for the state's economic troubles.

"People," Stevens said, "are bound to gamble and they might as well be permitted to gamble legally, with the benefits of it going to the government."

A Last Season's Foundation Won't Do With This Season's Clothes!

You may rely upon the fact that the public officers of this state will not be trifled with. Those who have been elected to such offices will be permitted to serve in accordance with the will of the people, and the Governor's power to appoint to public offices will be exercised in the public interest, and after reasonable consultation with those who have at heart the welfare of this state.

I welcome this coming election as a new deal in the state of Georgia. The ill-advised effort to divide our people in their opposition to the Talmadge regime has collapsed. The people of Georgia are not the kind of people who will submit to the kind of government Talmadge has given. On September 9 the men and women of this state, true to the tradition of their forefathers and loyal to the great Democratic party under which their forefathers fought, will by their ballots elect E. D. Rivers governor of this state, and will repudiate Talmadge, his heirs and assigns forever.

Disaster Relief Worker

STONE CRANE NAMED DISASTER RELIEF AID

Stone J. Crane, director of the Red Cross disaster operations in Gainesville, has been assigned to do special disaster relief work and to assist in membership campaigns for the next three months in Alabama, it was announced at Red Cross headquarters here yesterday.

Prior to being assigned to special disaster work for the Red Cross, Crane was general field representative of the organization in Georgia. Since he assumed charge of the work in 1931, the state membership of the Red Cross has advanced from the bottom of the list to near the top, officials said.

SOCIALISTS CONTEST FLORIDA BALLOT RULE

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Florida's supreme court will decide whether Socialists may have names of their candidates for public office printed on the November 3 general election ballot in Florida. The Socialist party put the question directly before the court today with a mandamus action against Secretary of State Richard N. Gray, who earlier said there was no provision of law by which he could certify the names of Socialist candidates to county commissions for preparation of the ballot.

The court issued an order directing Gray to show cause by September 15 why he should not be required to comply with the Socialists' demands. This will result in bringing the case before the full court for arguments by attorneys on questions of law involved.

Attractive Savannah Visitor

Miss Katherine Morrell, of Savannah, is numbered among attractive late summer visitors and is being honored at a number of informal social affairs as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. E. Owen Perry, at her home on Woodcrest avenue in Brookwood Hills. Miss Morrell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Morrell, prominent residents of Savannah, and is an admired member of the school set in the coastal city. She will resume her studies there later this month at the Cape school. Constitution staff photograph by H. J. Slayton.

Entertained at a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Rollins, at 1835 Boulevard avenue, N. E.

Miss Marion Smith Weds Mr. Mitcham.

Of interest is the marriage of Miss Marion Smith to Harry Lee Mitcham, both of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place at the Capitol View Methodist church on August 30. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herman J. Allison and music was presented by John Wesley Craft, pianist. The church was beautifully decorated with garden flowers and ferns.

The lovely bride was gowned in a navy blue suit with the fingertip length coat. Her navy blue hat and navy suede shoes completed her ensemble and her flowers were a spray of sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Louella Smith, of Villa Rica, Ga. She is the sister of Mrs. George Kilpatrick, Mrs. Charles Westmoreland, Mrs. Charles Claxton, Lay and Robert Smith, all of Atlanta, and Mrs. E. H. Stallard, of Griffin. She received her education at Commercial High school.

The groom is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom H. Mitcham, of Atlanta and the brother of Wallace Mitcham and Miss Rosalyn Mitcham. He received his education at Boys' High school and Young Harris Junior College, later attending Emory University, from which he was graduated with the class of this summer. After a trip through north Georgia and Tennessee, Mr. and Mrs. Mitcham will reside at 1309 Stewart avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Are Honor Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fay, of Kansas City, Mo., who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Meredith, were complimented on Wednesday at a luncheon given by Mrs. Emory Malloy at the Capital City Club. Mrs. Fay is the former Miss Mary Henry, and lived in Atlanta for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. James Henry were hosts at an informal appetit party on Wednesday at their home on Valley road complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Fay at the informal dinner party at which Stanley B. Ashley and Charles V. Parham were hosts at their Pine Valley road residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith honored their guests at a party Thursday evening at the dinner-dance on the roof garden of the Capital City Club, which was preceded by an appetit party given by the hosts at their Habersham road home.

Yesterday Mrs. Fay was central figure at the luncheon given by Mrs. Paul Bouziques at Brookhaven, the Capital City Country Club.

George Ferguson entertained at a barbecue Tuesday at his country home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Fay. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fay, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. James Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bouziques, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lawless, Stanley Ashley and Charles Parham.

Mrs. Thomas Given Series of Parties.

Mrs. C. A. Drew entertained at a spend-the-day party yesterday at her Peachtree Way home, in compliment to her guest, Mrs. B. A. Thomas, of Los Angeles, Cal., who is the former Miss Effie Stewart, of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Grady Phillips will be hosts at a buffet supper on Saturday at their home honoring Mrs. Thomas, a group of members of the married contingent being invited for this occasion.

Mrs. Phillips was hostess Wednesday at luncheon at her home on Emory road, for Mrs. Thomas. Mesdames Henry Barron and C. A. Drew assisted in entertaining. A handsome lace cloth covered the table which was beautified with a white pottery bowl filled with larkspur, gladioli and white asters.

Invited to meet the honor guest were Mesdames Henry Brown, C. A. Drew, Edward Crawford, J. E. MacGuinn, Jesse Fisk, Richard Batistini, Mary Stewart, J. M. Fitzgerald, Rufus Kilgore, of Miami, Fla., and Georgia Peoples.

Miss Helvenston Weds Joseph Espy In Savannah, Ga.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 3.—Of state-wide interest is the marriage of Miss Marjorie Louise Helvenston, of Atlanta, daughter of Mrs. William Guy Hastings and the late Lyman Helvenston, and Joseph Samuel Espy, which was solemnized on Monday at Christ Episcopal church. The Rev. Geoffrey M. Horsfield, rector of the church, officiated in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

The bride wore a gown of powder blue crepe with a navy blue hat and corsage of orchids. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Espy left for New York city. They sailed Wednesday for Bermuda and will reside in Savannah after October 1.

Mrs. Espy is a charming and attractive young girl and made many friends in Savannah while spending the summer at Tybee. The bride's mother is the former Miss Lucy Moulton Hopson, of Florida, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John William Hopson and granddaughter of Colonel John Sidney Hopson. On her paternal side she is the granddaughter of the late Mrs. Tallulah Walker Helvenston and Humbolt Helvenston and the great-granddaughter of the late Governor Walker, of South Carolina.

Mrs. Espy was graduated from Washington Seminary, where she was a member of the Sigma Delta sorority and later attended the Florida State College for Women, where she was a member of the Pi Beta Phi.

Mr. Espy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Espy and the grandson of late W. S. Wright, through whom he is related to a number of prominent southern families. On his paternal side he is the grandson of late Professor Joseph Samuel Espy, of Tallapoosa county, Alabama, a well-known educator of that state. Mr. Espy was graduated from Lawrenceville, N. J., in 1927, where he was president of the student body, and later attended Yale University. He is now president of the Espy Paving & Construction Company.

Brookhaven News.

PLEASANT NEW WAY to CARE for CUTICLES

A touch of Manicare on a wet nailbrush does four things:

1. Loosens and removes dead cuticle without cutting. Easy, safe.
2. Helps to prevent brittle, broken nails.
3. Keeps a soft, smooth frame around the nails. No hang-nails.
4. Cleanses fingertips, gives sparkle to dull, lifeless nails. Does not disturb polish. Use any time. Pleasantly scented.

Atlantans Will Spend Labor Day At Various and Sundry Places

By Sally Forth.

LABOR DAY week-end will bring to a colorful and delightful climax the series of holidays enjoyed by society during the long and hot summer months. The September holiday, coming as it does on Monday, affords vacationists an additional day, which adds to the pleasurable anticipation of their vacation. The mountains and the seashore will share alike in the selection, and as early as today many Atlantans will head their cars for their favorite rendezvous.

Delicate picnic lunches will be packed in attractive baskets and boxes by congenial socialites who will motor to Roswell to spend Monday at Mimosa Hall, where Major and Mrs. Gus Tolson recently established residence. Composing the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thornton, Major and Mrs. Murray Shoun, Mr. and Mrs. Cobb Dulaney, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell Jr., Mrs. William T. Healey, Henry Tompkins, Major and Mrs. Tolson, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Draper, and others.

Luncheon will be served beneath the spreading branches of the majestic oak trees in the garden surrounding Mimosa Hall, the historic colonial house that was built before the War Between the States.

One of the trickiest and recent innovations for lovers of the "open road" will be adequately demonstrated when a party of attractive and congenial Atlantans roll out of town in their "hotel on wheels" to spend a glorious Labor Day at Lakemont at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hirsch. The party will include Henry and Helen Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Whitten, Sara Jenkins, Jim Calhoun, Ralph Holland and Ben Noble Jr. The group will return to Atlanta on Monday evening.

Down at Sea Island a popular group will include Mr. and Mrs. John Candler, Dr. and Mrs. Jesse York, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. William Ward, who will enjoy seaside breezes and attendant activities at the beach cottage of Mr. and Mrs. John Candler. The famed Mississippi gulf coast has been selected for the brief holiday of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Martin, who will motor along the coast to New Orleans, where they will spend the major portion of a late vacation.

Another member of society who has selected a mountain retreat for the week-end is Ida Thomas, who will be hostess at a house party at beautiful Kingwood at Clayton, Ga., home of her family. The group leaves this afternoon and returns to the city on Monday.

Rosebud Leide, one of last year's debs, leaves today for Jacksonville Beach, where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. Roland Upshaw at their beach cottage. After her sojourn there Rosebud will spend several more days in Jacksonville before returning to Atlanta.

A group of the younger set composing a congenial group spending the week-end at Blairsville include Epsie Dallis, Lamar Perschau, Alys Peace, Margaret McCarty, Betty Fielder, of Columbus, Ga.; Harry Buice, Sam Nelson, Ed James, Jim Moreton, Jack Jerchau and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terrell.

Up at the Tate Estates, Mr. and Mrs. Goodloe Yancey will entertain their friends at the home, and the homes of the Joe Winshires, the William Ott Alstons, the "Alec" Alexanders, Professor and Mrs. Arthur Armstrong and Robert H. Martins will assemble family groups.

THE departure in the near future of Mrs. Albert Anderson Jr. and her young daughter, Constance, to join Mr. Anderson in Toronto, Canada, for future residence has been the occasion of a round of social gavottes complementing this popular young matron. Each day has been filled with affairs for Mrs. Anderson, who as Miss Constance Spalding, or Connie, as she is better known to her intimates, has been genuinely beloved by a wide circle of friends since her earliest childhood in Atlanta, where her family has been prominent for generations.

One of the most enjoyable of these affairs was the small tea at which Mrs. Howard Cutter entertained this week at her home on Avery drive, the guests including the members of a sewing club to which both Connie and Katherine Boyd Cutter belong. Katherine is widely known for her originality, and her table decoration that afternoon was one of the cleverest of which Sally has heard in a long, long time.

The table showed two phases in Connie's life, one side representing Atlanta and the other Canada. A red-headed doll getting on a toy train portrayed Connie, while a large doll with its hand over its eyes was "Atlanta weeping." On the Canadian side of the table was Albert waiting with a toy truck filled with bottles of the well-known beverage of the company with which he is affiliated. The quintuplets, which are always called to mind when Canada is mentioned, were represented by five tiny dolls, and the royal mounted police by a doll on a hobby horse. The Atlanta side of the table was in green and the Canadian side in snow and ice.

FRIENDS of Mrs. Joseph F. Gains and Joseph Francis, her son, always are eager for news concerning these erstwhile Atlantans who live in Paris, France. Nineteen-year-old Joseph Francis attended Cambridge College in England last year and made an excellent record in his studies.

He begins his two-year military training for France in the autumn with the Chasseurs d'Alpin. The aforementioned group of dashing French soldiers is known as the Blue Devils, a fearless and intrepid group who won fame and glory in the World War. Joseph Francis and his charming mother spent the summer at Pongresin, Switzerland. When they resided in Atlanta Mrs. Gains and Joseph were exceedingly beloved by and were popular with a great many friends.

Baptist Union Secretary

Mrs. J. S. Price, fourth district secretary of Atlanta Association of Baptist Women's Missionary Union. Mrs. Price is also president of Gordon Street B. W. M. U., in whose honor the Bessie K. Price Y. W. A. of Gordon Street church was named.

Decatur Club Holds Flower Show On September 18

The garden division of Decatur Woman's Club met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Claude C. Smith, and 40 members and guests attended. A flower show will be held on September 18 at the club. A zinnia show will be held in connection with the show and awards will be given. The club membership boasts three accredited judges, Mesdames Fletcher Crown, John Harper and E. P. Crenshaw, who will be judges. Stanley Hastings and Bruce Hall were elected associate members of the division.

It was voted that the October meeting be held at Neal's Gap and the club accepted an invitation to hold the November meeting at Cabin Jon Adel, the country home of Mrs. John Harper. Mrs. Guy Hudson introduced visitors and new members, and Mrs. Smith invited her guests to visit her garden, which is aglow with brilliant flowers.

1,500-TON DESTROYER IS LAUNCHED BY NAVY

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 3.—(AP)—The United States ship Bagley, 1,500-ton destroyer, was launched at the Norfolk navy yard today.

Under the sponsorship of the Miss Belle Worth Bagley, of Washington, sister of the late Ensign Worth Bagley, U. S. N., for whom the ship was named, the trim vessel slid down the ways before a cheering crowd of several thousand persons.

The principal speaker for the exercises preceding the launching was Douglas Gordon, editor of the Ledger-Dispatch.

Miss Bagley was introduced by Rear Admiral C. S. Freeman, U. S. N., commandant of the yard.

Things That Make Women More Beautiful

A Lipstick That I Must Say Has Simply Everything

By MIGNON.

(The Mignon who writes this column does not sell, endorse or manufacture any cosmetics.)

I heard a foreign woman say the other day that when a man kisses an American girl he kisses lipstick, and not girl. Be that as it may, the American women are considered the prettiest in the world, and they certainly don't get that way by avoiding all of the delicate little cosmetic touches.

Nothing is so important to a woman's looks as a good lipstick of the right shade and only enough to give the lips a moist look. The women of the theater have the secret that makes their lips touched with dew. They paint them perfectly, and after they have entirely finished their makeup, they put a little cold cream over the lipstick. Of course, what this would do to whoever kissed them is something you'll have to figure out yourself.

I have found a heavenly lipstick for you—oil, in gorgeous colors, generous in size, and I think most reasonable. You get a great deal of lipstick for a little more than you would pay for tinest ones.

The creamy texture is what recommends it. It is waterproof, and it certainly stays put. If you are out of lipstick, try one, because it has been tried and found not in any way wanting.

Nancy's Peach Shortcake Equals Her Strawberry One.

By FLORENCE La GANKE.

Nancy's strawberry shortcake was famous far and wide. She discovered that she was getting just as fine a reputation for her peach shortcake. It was made in almost the same manner. Here is her recipe. She sifted, measuring, two cups of flour.

To this she added three teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt, two tablespoons sugar. She worked in, using the tips of her fingers, six tablespoons of butter. When the mixture was something like coarse sand, she set it aside while she beat one egg lightly, added two-thirds cup milk and put this with the dry ingredients.

She divided the dough into halves and put half of it onto a lightly floured pie plate. She patting this to a thickness of three-quarters of an inch, spread it liberally with melted butter and laid on the second half of dough which had been shaped on the lightly floured pastry board. Then she put the pan into a 450-degree oven and baked the shortcake for 20 minutes. At the end of this time she slipped a spatula between the two layers. If there was a slightly under-done texture she put the top half, top side down, into another pie plate and slipped it back in the oven. The heat baked the under-done part and took care of the now uncovered part of the lower half.

By patting the dough and then cutting it with a large round cutter Nancy could make individual shortcakes. She brushed one round with melted butter, being very careful to have the butter out to the very edge. Then she put the top round on and baked the rounds in the hot oven.

These individual shortcakes made a most attractive showing when they appeared on the table, especially when topped with whipped cream.

The peaches were peeled, pitted and sliced. They were well sugared and placed in the refrigerator for a half-hour. Now Nancy put them between the layers and on top while the shortcake was still warm. The dessert was served at the table. A pitcher of heavy cream with a drop of bitter almond was passed at the same time. When Nancy had peaches that were lacking in flavor she added a pinch of salt and one or two drops of sweet almond extract. That is not the bitter almond which is put in the cream.

Yale Insists Upon Refinement; Oil Company Will Sponsor Broadcasts

The sons of Eli always well up in the vanguard of progress, dickered for several months with hair-dye people, cigaret people, tooth paste people, and breakfast food people before deciding to throw in their lot with an oil company. Yale insists on retinement, and oil is very refined. In the deal, but there is always a chance that the sponsors of the Boolea will, in an hour of grinding glimmer, will end upon a new line of suggestions, and therefore he has prepared a sample broadcast of the classic end of the world, as told by (Oz's Er) and Harvard (Oz's Animal Crackers), to be delivered by that popular philosopher and sports expert, Mr. Ted Shoestring.

Harry Ordinarily Runs at No. 2 Post, But Is Familiar With Other.

By Jack Troy.

Suppose Dutch Konemann goes out of a Tech game this fall—

Then who would carry the mail from the wingback position?

This question has come up from time to time since the season started a matter of three days ago.

No one is counting, of course, on the Flying Dutchman being out of any of the big games, unless it be the opposition. But there's a goodly chance Konemann will be given a breathing spell now and then.

HARRY APPEBY.
Which brings one back to the original question.
The answer is Harry Appeby and Fletcher for the most part.
Appeby ordinarily runs at the No. 2 position in the backfield, but he is very familiar with the duties of the wingback.
And he is regarded as being second only to Konemann as a ball carrier. Appeby is fast, shifty and very capable of handling of forward and lateral passes.
Sims' regular position is wingback. He's speedy and an excellent pass receiver.
Lawrence Hays, whose brilliant play was a feature of the last Tech-Georgia game, also could run at the wingback position.
The first contact work featured the Tech drill yesterday afternoon.

SOLID WORK.

Coch W. A. Alexander called for the headgear, telling the other coaches "to give them plenty of good work, and I want to get them toughened up."

And so there was work on the tackling dummy and also bodily contact work for the linemen.

And then there paired them off and set them upon each other in exercises involving the fouled elbow, designed for teaching balance and also to toughen one up, and later there was offensive and defensive line play, the line charged with just one linemen trying to carry each other out. And vice versa.

The work is progressing splendidly and is being favored by excellent weather. The coaches are not enough to cause the overweight members of the squad to perspire enough to come down to their normal weight in a grad-

FULL SQUAD.—On a full firstry squad, excepting only Jim Morgan, who had laboratory work in the best practice to date. Signal practice included much forward and lateral passing. The boys are getting on their feet.

It has been reported before but will repeat that John Raine, a junior back, will not return to the squad. Death of Raine's father, one time star of the football for Sewanee, is the reason.

Raines was considered a good prospect. He was doing well in the work and the work is progressing splendidly, with a full squad on hand. The first week is drawing rapidly to close and, before you can realize it, the season will be over.

er boys will be scrimmaging and the first game will be at hand, concerning a humorous story concerning one man, the Flying Dutchman, yesterday.

GOT IT BACKWARDS.

It seems Konemann was agrieved after answering a question on a recent examination and finding that the Flying Dutchman was "strong."

The Dutchman is making good marks in summer school.

The question was "For what purpose is helium used?"

He answered, "Down 'balloon."

Informed that helium is used not for a ballast but for lifting purposes, Konemann exclaimed, "Doggone, the way of knowing that's what I meant."

The Flying Dutchman is still bothered with an ear ailment and is being worked lightly.

Belloise Wins Kayo; Foul Blow Claimed

AMADISON SQUARE GARDEN.
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Spiry Mike Belloise, of New York, tonight retained his claims to the world welterweight championship by knocking out Dave Crowley, of England, in the ninth round of their scheduled 15-round bout before more than 18,000 fans.

Crowley was an unusual and unpopular cockout—scored while the brown-eyed Englishman was writing on the canvas, clutching his groin and holding his head.

Referee Arthur Donovan counted a full 10 over him, as fouls are not allowed in New York state, it being a practice that boxers wear protective padding against low blows.

Wagnon Is Greeted By Athens Friends

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 3.—Georgia players, coaches and townsmen alike today were greeting Henry Wagnon, first of the three Bulldogs who sought Olympic glory abroad to report back here.

Wagnon, a catcher for the American baseball team, will assume his duties as coach of the Sylvania High gridders sometime this month. A star end and All-American player at Georgia, Wagnon was graduated last spring. Forrest (Spec) Towns, incomparable hurdler, is expected about September 20. Bobby Packard, a sprinter, is likewise due to show up soon.

Georgia Further Along in Conditioning at This Time Than Before.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 3.—Jumping the gun, Coach Harry Mehre ordered full regalia on excepting helmets, and his Georgia Bulldog grid squad out for a comparatively hard workout today.

"We are further along from the point of conditioning than we have been since I've been here," he commented.

Inviting weather induced the Bulldog coach to change his announced plans. The boys reported in full uniform this morning. Previously, he had said they would doff shorts Friday or

TOUGH SATURDAY.
The hardest trial of the week is slated for Saturday. Body contact work will be the order of the day. Backs got a little taste of it today in trying to form. Linemen hit the charging sled in a short session.

Only minor and recurring injuries have been reported up thus far. None are serious and Trainer C. W. Jones is working diligently to iron them out. Roy Gatchell, guard, fell in going for a punt during this kneeing drill. He is being nursed quite painfully today. Paul Cawsey, tackle, has a few bruises. Bob Salisbury, guard, and Carroll Thomas, end, are expected to make frequent visits to the trainers table.

KICKS WELL.
Harry Stevens got off several fine kicks in the punting drill. Coach

Mehre wishes this former Boys' High star had had more football experience. A track star in high school, he devoted no time to football until his senior year when he played in four games, at left halfback. The odds are against his playing much back this season. A sophomore, he must compete with a flock including Alf Anderson, Paul Causey and Guy Miller at this position.

Personnel of a team running signals follows: Marvin Gillespie and Otis Maffett, ends; Clayton Wilhite and Bill Badgett, tackles; Harry Harman and J. C. Earl, guards; Bob May, center; Andy Roddenberry, quarterback; Glenn Johnson and Paul Causey, halfbacks, and Bill Hartman, fullback.

TO "CASH IN."

Yale decided to "cash in" so as to give persons who can't go to the games in the cavernous concrete bowl a chance to hear them and get some attractive opportunities to get some revenue for the school. The Harvard-Yale Y. Woodcock, business manager of the Yale Athletic Association.

Bill Bingham, graduate manager of Harvard, who returned today from Berlin, said that the American Olympic track and field team, indicated the Crimson is in a receptive mood for offers." Bingham said. "I don't think it's inconsistent," Bingham said. "I think it's a dignified practice just like selling advertising space in a newspaper for advertising for programs. I have heard several suggestions along that line but have yet to see anything on the door."

Shepard said he tried several years ago to interest Harvard in commercial broadcasts, but couldn't put over the idea. However, he was heartened by Bingham's comments and indicated he would attempt to reopen negotiations with Harvard. He's particularly anxious to broadcast the Army-Harvard game.

PENN. CONSIDERING.

"Penn is seriously considering a commercial broadcast of its games this fall, but at this time there is no official announcement to make," asserted William Labrum, director of publicity. Other Penn officials declined to comment.

ALABAMA.
UNIVERSITY, Ala., Sept. 3.—(P) Alabama's Crimson Tidemen limbered up sore muscles under a hot sun today in their third day of practice for the 1928 season. The outsiders. Late arrivals between now and Saturday are expected to swell the squad to more than 30. Eleven numeral men are due back.

Coach Frank Thomas said he expected Backfield Coach Happy Campbell to return tomorrow with Young and Buggy and the other players. Teague, end, who has been playing with a North Carolina baseball team coached by Campbell.

MISSISSIPPI U.

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Sept. 3.—(AP) Rough work for University of Mississippi football players was increased here today, Coach Ed Walker sending them through shoulder blocking and "running the gauntlet" tackling for the first time.

Shoulder and kidney pads became a part of the regular equipment, indicating that teams may be lined up for plays and light scrimmages tomorrow.

Coach Bob Neyland, coach of the University of Tennessee's 1936 football team will include at least four players as regulars. Twenty-four of the 32 candidates are seniors. Bob Speed and Babe Wood, halfbacks, and Joe Little, center, are among the most promising of the second-year men. Joe Little, center, end, became the first injured player of the season today when he bruised his shoulder in practice.

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Sept. 3.—(P)—Frank Carideo, backfield coach of the Mississippi Maroons, called on his punters for a little more distance in their practice and said:

"We are bringing the kickers along slowly," Carideo said, "but we will have them in shape when the season gets under way."

Ike Pickle, All-Southeastern halfback, and Bob Hardison, fullback, who did the punting last year, are showing improvement in their punting kicking.

Edward Scott, promising sophomore halfback, is measuring distance with the veterans.

SEAWANE.
SEAWANE, Tenn., Sept. 3.—(P)—Beginning two days later than their lin, sophomore quarterback, and Parnell Haley, 200-pound end, were most consistently long. Little Jimmy Huggins, and Jimmy Carson, two other quarterbacks, got off several impressive punts.

His team now are in uniform, but Sam Agee, the missing fullback, is not among them. It was reported he is in west Tennessee and will be on hand Monday.

L. S. U.
BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 3.—(P) A slight change in Louisiana State University's punting plans will be noticed this season because of Abe Mickal's departure, but Coach Bernie Moore will continue the same general football system that carried the Tigers to the conference title last year.

"There are certain changes we will Southeastern conference rivals, Sewanee's football squad participated in the first drill of the season here today under the directions of Coach Hel Clark.

Seventeen candidates, five of them lettermen, reported for the two workmake, but on the whole we will follow the same system," Moore said today.

"We'll have to alter some of our pass and punt plays because we haven't anyone capable of carrying out the assignment as Mickal did."

Yates Wins as Americans Blank Britons in Walker Play, 9-0

ATLANTAN'S WIN OVER J. DYKES CINCHES MATCH

Reynolds Smith's 11-9 Win Leads U. S. Team to Greatest Triumph.

By Paul Michelson.

CLEMENTON, N. J., Sept. 3.—(AP) Great Britain's hopes of winning the Walker Cup, the huge silver golf trophy that never has left these shores, lay buried among the pines and scrub oaks of Pine Valley today.

Answering the challenge of the youngest team ever to represent the British Isles in the international amateur team match series, the Americans forced down such a terrific barrage that they not only beat them but shut them out, 9 to 0, for the first time since the matches opened 14 years ago at Southampton, N. Y. All his majesty's forces got out of the wreckage were two halved foursomes and a mixed singles match, gained by Harry Bentley, 23-year-old Englishman, over George T. Dunlap Jr., of New York, former national amateur champion.

Inasmuch as halved matches go down in the record books as "0-0" contests, the rout went down as an even greater one than the 11 to 1 victory gained by Bobby Jones and his mates at Chicago in 1928. It was a bitter return for the British, who had returned their old Walker cup stars from the pine-studded valleys of Scotland and nominated younger players in a serious attempt to win.

Victory in the fight they never have lost since the series was started in 1922 was clinched by Charley Yates, of Atlanta, who furnished the winning point with an 8 and 7 triumph over J. Morton Dykes.

SMITH IS STAR

Reynolds Smith, sharpshooting Texan, led the winning assault for the second day of the matches, fought over the tree-infested Pine Valley golf course. In the foursomes yesterday, Smith teamed up with a fellow Texan, Ed White, to whip their British foes, 8 and 7, for the most lopsided margin of the round. Today, hanging deadly irons stiff to the pins and leading after the fourth hole, he crushed Alec Hill, London stockbroker, 11 and 9 to score the most decisive victory. Smith furnished the first eagles point and the habit spread up and down the pine-studded valleys.

Dunlap, victimized by some of the fiercest iron shots of his career, had a close escape. He piled up a 2-up lead on the morning 18, and promptly threw it away on the first two holes of the afternoon, reaching the 27th hole one down to the veteran English player. Bentley even had George one down and two to play but nervously three-putted the 35th hole to lose it and allow Dunlap to get a halved match and give the United States its victory of whitewash.

Johnny Fischer, of Cincinnati, on the sidelines during the foursome play that America won 2 to 0, shot the finest golf of the day to crush Cecil Ewing, long hitting Irishman, 8 and 7. Johnny, deadly with his irons from the open and behind trees, scored a 74 in the morning and then raced out with a 34, one under par, to raise his lead to 8 up and 9 to go. He matched par for par on the next two holes to win handily. Over the 29 holes he traveled, Johnny was but three over par—a real achievement at Pine Valley.

CHARLIE YATES WINS

Charlie Yates, the crowning Atlantan, also was only three over par but was aided with a few gifts by his faltering foe, J. Morton Dykes. Scot putting genius, whom he beat 8 and 7, Yates rolled in some fine putts and spanked beautiful approaches to break his rival, grabbing a 4-up lead at noon and extending it to 7 holes by coursing the front nine in the afternoon in 34 strokes.

Ed White, the Texan who puffs a cigar as he puts 'em down, also gave a fine iron display as he swamped the 18-year-old English schoolboy sensation, John Langley, 6 and 5. Ed lost the first hole, gained a 1-up lead through nine and a 5-up margin at lunch. As his younger opponent wilted under the strain of the Texas' almost flawless chip shots, White bounded 7-up at the three-quarter mark and froze him out over the remaining four holes with one-over par golf.

The greatest finish, however, was turned in by Scotty Campbell, the Seattle bomber. Scotty, two up at the 27th, scored the final five holes in two under par to polish off a stubborn team, Jack McLean, 5 and 4. On the 31st hole, Scotty canned the longest putt of the matches—a 65-footer for a birdie.

THOMPSON BEATEN

Johnny Goodman took the measure of the British amateur champion, Hector Thompson, 3 and 2, leading all the way. A 72, two over par, netted the former national open champion a two-hole lead at noon, and he never relinquished it despite shaky golf in the afternoon.

A series of traps that caught his opponent's ball along the 35th fairway enabled Walter Emery, of Oklahoma City, 1935 national amateur runner-up, to defeat Gordon Peters, young Scot, one-up in the next to closest match of the day. Peters, three down and nine to go, shot subpar golf at the Oklahoma over the final stretch and caught him on the 34th where Walter became tangled with deep, heavy rough, only to hit three successive shots into traps along the semi-final hole to lose it and the match.

BREAK O' DAY

ever saw before, including a pennant winner, the city has not been happy.

The psychology is all wrong. Mr. Griffith, of course, primarily is interested in building up his Washington ball club. The Chattanooga club is pretty sure to be a money-loser. It can't make much money. His profits come from Washington and most of them come from player sales, such as, for instance, selling Son-in-Law Joe Cronin for $250,000 cash on the line. And that much money isn't fodder.

But, Mr. Griffith isn't vitally interested in Chattanooga. And the Yankees, or any club which might come into the league, would not be vitally interested in their protege. It would be a farm. For developing players. The finest thing that ever happened to baseball in our town was just what happened. The club went bust. And the new owners, real citizens, went to work.

The man behind it all happened to be one of our smarter men. He left the club in the hands of a small committee. And they left it in the hands of one man—Earl Mann.

The Southern association would do well to prohibit major league ownership.

New Orleans can work out the problem. There is profit in baseball in New Orleans if some man with money is willing to take a financial rap until he can reorganize and get started.

THE REAL AA LEAGUE.

When the Southern association was asking for an AA baseball rating last winter, the baseball officials at Louisville, American association member, objected on the basis that the Southern association was too much of a minor league to have the rating. A class A-1 rating finally was obtained.

Reports from the American association show that Louisville drew in 1935, a total of 40,785 and this season 79,135. The AA Coast league is not so strong.

Little Rock, perhaps the smallest city in the Southern association, will draw better than 100,000 this season. Atlanta, for the second time in as many years, will go over 300,000 in home attendance. And the league will draw about 1,050,000. Or more. The Southern league merits an AA rating. It should get it.

The Crackers, for instance, are outdrawing at least three major league teams. The Southern association is the real AA minor league.

It must be true, what they say about Dixie.

Perry, Budge Breeze In National Tourney

Grant Advances Via Bye and Billy Reese Wins in Impressive Fashion.

FOREST HILLS, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The tennis giants marched into the second round of the national men's and women's tennis championships today without a single protest from the little fellows.

Everything went exactly as was expected: Fred Perry, the English favorite, downed through a 6-0, 6-0, 6-1 victory over Alfred Farris, of Tenafly, N. J.; Helen Jacobs was mercilessly consistent in winning two love sets in 15 minutes from C. Esther Edwards, of Bridgeport, Conn.; Don Budge, the American hope from Oakland, Cal., disposed of George Seewagen, of Jackson Heights, L. I., 6-0, 6-1, 6-0, and Kay Stammers, the little English miss, was as pretty and efficient as ever in beating Grace Surber, of New York, 6-1, 6-1.

All other seeded players in the field did no more than practice in their early matches. John McDiarmid, Princeton, N. J., and J. Hal Surface, Kansas City, the only other seeded players who played in the men's tournament today, beat John Anderson, Hoboken, N. J., 6-3, 6-3, 6-2, and Dr. David O'Loughlin, Pittsburgh, 6-0, 6-1, 7-5, respectively.

In the women's division, three other seeded players, Carolyn Babcock, Los Angeles; Mary Greif Harris, Kansas City; and Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, Philadelphia, advanced. Miss Babcock defeated Mrs. Joseph Gray Beach, Cincinnati, 6-3, 6-3; Mrs. Harriett Bourne Catherine Sample, of Miami, 6-3, 6-4, and Mrs. Van Ryn route Lydia Kayser, of Buffalo, 6-1, 6-0.

Bryan Grant, Atlanta; Sidney Wood, New York; Frankie Parker, Lawrenceville, N. J.; Bobby Riggs, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabian, Cambridge, Mass., will get under way tomorrow for the first time.

Reese Is Winner; MacLennan Loses.
FOREST HILLS, Sept. 3.—Two of Atlanta's four entries in the national tennis championship, Bryant Grant Jr. and Billy Reese, advanced to the second round today. Grant by a bye, and Reese with a well earned 6-2, 6-2, 6-3 victory over Ramsey Potts, another southerner from Memphis. The other two met defeat. Evangeline MacLennan falling before Miss Catherine Wolf, of Elkhart, Ind., 6-3, 6-1, and Buritz Rouliware, bowing to David Jones, Columbia University and Oxford graduate, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Reese played one of the best matches he has ever turned in. With the games scored 2-1 in the opening set, Billy put on pressure, using deep fore and backhand drives to keep Potts away from the net and ran out the set with four straight games for a 6-2 score. During this rally, Billy made numerous placement volleys which were crisp and angled off to the side-line very nicely. Play in the second set was a repetition of the first. Reese led at 3-0, but Potts broke Billy's service in the fourth and held his own in the fifth to pull up to 2-3. Again Reese stormed the net for telling placements, which ran his opponent all over the court in vain attempts to get them.

Reese plays Paul Guibord, Dartmouth University player, in the second round. Reese is a slight favorite to win.

Evangeline was pitted against Catherine Wolf, America's tenth ranking woman player. After an exchange of service breaks, Evangeline held her own service to lead 2-1. Miss Wolf playing very steadily mostly from the baseline rallied to lead 4-2, dropped the next game, and then took the next two for the set at 6-3.

MacLennan led off in the next set by breaking Miss Wolf's service to lead 1-0. From this point on though, the Indiana girl was just too steady. With Evangeline tiring from the fast pace of the match, the Atlanta "hope" dropped six games in a row, to lose the set 6-1, and the match 6-3, 6-1.

Three Score Upsets In Handball Tourney
Three upsets featured the first round of play in the eleventh annual Y. M. C. A. handball championship tournament now in progress at the "Y." Three seeded men were defeated and sent to the losers' bracket where they will be eliminated if they lose one other match.

Nelson Willis won over the veteran George Gardner in straight sets, 22-20, 21-19. The match was hard fought as the scores indicated. Wilbur Knight, champion of the second flight and automatic qualifier for the first flight, upset the dope bucket by defeating match, 22-20, 21-18. Dave Levin won over Ralph Holland, last year runner-up, 21-7, 24-22. Levin in perfect condition got everything the fast serving Holland could shoot at him and finally wore him out.

The other five seeded players advanced as was expected. The perennial champion, Horace Smith, won over Rex Morris, 22-20, 7-21, 21-8. Tom Oastler won over Moon Mullins by default. Dave Pirkle had a three-set tussle to win over Roy Warren, 21-23, 21-3, 21-14. Mutt Merritt defeated Ed Flary 21-12, 21-19 and looks like one of the favorites to win the coveted title. Bill Thornton won over the veteran Fred Cole 21-10, 21-13.

Second round matches will be completed by Tuesday. The public is invited to see these matches on the Clarke street courts.

Patty Berg Wins Way to Finals

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Patty Berg, 18-year-old Minneapolis star, and Virginia Guilfoyle, of Syracuse, N. Y., won their way today to the finals of the Mason Dixon women's golf tournament.

Miss Berg scored a 3 and 2 victory over Mrs. Betty Palmer Meckley, of Washington, and Miss Guilfoyle defeated Jean Bauer, of Providence, R. I., the defending champion, 1 up, after a 19-hole struggle.

The final 36-hole match will be played tomorrow.

DIXIESTEEL OFF TO MID-SOUTH TOURNEY TODAY

Play Begins Saturday at Birmingham; Six Teams Entered.

Dixiesteel baseball team, of the Atlanta Commercial league will leave for Birmingham this afternoon where they will represent Atlanta in the Mid-South Athletic Association baseball tournament to be held at Rickwood park, home park of the Birmingham Barons, Saturday and Sunday. Dixiesteel was selected as Atlanta's best amateur baseball team of the season having lost less league games than any team in the city. Six teams will compete in the tournament, namely Knoxville, Memphis, Chattanooga, Atlanta and two teams from Birmingham.

The winner of the Birmingham tournament will play in the Athletic Institute Baseball Congress national amateur tournament in Louisville, Ky., the following week-end. Approximately 30 teams will meet at Louisville.

In addition to the entire Dixiesteel lineup Manager C. L. McGowan will take Virgil Moore, of White Provision, and Lefty Everett, of Gulf Refining. Each team is allowed to play 17 men.

Tech High Plays Erie In Opener Friday Week

By Roy White.

Tech High's opening football game with Erie Academy, Friday night week, September 11, will be played at Ponce de Leon park, it was announced Thursday by W. O. Cheney, principal of Tech High.

The game was originally scheduled for Ponce de Leon park, but later changed to the Rose Bowl field, and now it will be played where it was first scheduled.

After a conference with Earl Mann, president of the Atlanta Baseball Association, Wednesday night, it was decided to revert back to Ponce de Leon park.

And it is likely that all the other prep games tentatively set for the Rose Bowl field will be changed back to Ponce de Leon park, though no definite announcement has been made regarding the other games as yet.

There will be ample seating capacity for the crowd, for both the bleachers and the colored stands will be in use.

Tech High held its third scrimmage of the year Thursday afternoon and it was the longest and best of the year thus far. More than 65 candidates got into the two-hour session. Coaches Tolbert, Dowis and Alexander were very well pleased with the results. Another scrimmage is set for this afternoon, but will not be the rough type as that of Thursday.

Two more scrimmages will be held next week, in the final preparation for the opening game September 11.

Word was received from Erie Thursday that the academy will bring practically a veteran team to open its schedule with the Smithies.

Erie defeated the Smithies 28 to 0 last year at Erie and with almost the same team back will be favored to give Tech High plenty of trouble next Friday night.

Tech High has won three and lost two games with Erie and Coach Tolbert is working overtime in an effort to build a team which he hopes will hold that advantage with another victory.

Erie has held the same number of practices as Tech High, and with the advantage of cooler climate, will be in excellent shape when they arrive here Thursday night, September 10.

PLAY IN OUTFIELD.
The football field will be laid off in the outfield, so as not to tear up the infield. It will run parallel to the right-field grandstands, but will be nearer the scoreboards.

There will be ample seating capacity for the crowd, for both the bleachers and the colored stands will be in use.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS No. 59

"Quick! I'm sinking! It's eatin' me up!" Tarzan perceived the danger, but that stimulated rather than deterred him. Carefully avoiding the sharp, he dashed ashore. There, in a mass of jungle growth, he selected a long, stout liana and swung over the helpless George, but he still could not reach him.

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"Hold up your hands," Tarzan called; "and don't struggle; that makes you sink faster." Now, as the ape-man swung back and forth, he twined one leg in a loop of the vine and hung head downward, extending his arms. After several trials he grasped George's upraised hands.

GIRL BADLY HURT AS TRAIN HITS CAR

Thrown on Tracks, She Escapes Death by Rolling Out of Engine's Path.

Geraldine Holcomb, 16, of 415 Kelly street, was seriously injured last night when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by a locomotive switch engine at the Marietta-Simpson street crossing and she was thrown through the car door onto the tracks below.

She was admitted to Grady hospital suffering a frontal skull fracture. Her companion, John Dwyer, 24, of 501 Spring street, East Point, was uninjured.

Miss Holcomb told hospital attendants she was knocked through the door of the car and fell a few feet in front of the engine. She said she was saved "simply by rolling over quickly."

The couple was riding east on Simpson street when the car was struck by the slowly moving engine. Dwyer told police he did not see or hear the locomotive. The front of the car was badly damaged.

New Fall Snap-Brim Is Truly American Hat

Product of Several Seasons' Borrowing From European Sources Has Wider Brim, Lower Crown—Homburg and Turn-Up-All-Around Hat Are Also in Picture.

By ROBERT FAIRCHILD, Editor, Men's Fashions.

Invoke all the old metaphors about casting bread upon the waters, chickens coming home to roost, trees being judged by their fruit. They're all applicable, yet inadequate to describe the full significance of the recent changes in American hat styles. After years of borrowing from divers sources in Europe—the Tyrol, London, etc.—there has been evolved a truly American hat, a hat that does more than combine the best features of its predecessors and achieves an individuality of its own. It is all a fitting product of the American flair for headgear.

The base upon which we have been building is of course the snap-brim—the university hat, so called because it is the American undergraduate who seems to be most prodigal of ideas in headgear. He it was who produced the university hat of a few seasons ago, with the sharply curling, narrow brim, raw-edged or bound with ribbed silk, in a shade of brown that was as close to black as one could get. He it was who then took the Tyrolean hat and incorporated some of its features—the crown higher in front than in back, the hold feather mount, the greenish tones.

And he it is who has led the way in advancing the cause of this season's hat.

The Crown Is Lower

First of all, the crown is lower. The immediate advantage of this is to bring the hat into line with the average face. The crown now represents a blissful compromise between the flatness of the pork-pie and the mountain-peak-ness of the Tyrolean. It suits both the dolicho and brachycephalic types, enthusiastic anthropologists exclaim.

Second modification, a natural concomitant of the lowering of the crown, is the slight widening of the brim. Here again the effect is to bring the hat closer to the needs of the average American face. (The anthropologists retire from the scene at that last remark.) The brim is flatter, too, but enough of the curl has been retained to hold the jaunty flavor. A third change in the brim is the welt edge, superseding the raw edge and the bound edge in the preference of many well-dressed men.

The Brown Is Lighter

The third major change in our American hat is the move away from the blackish tones of brown to an intermediate shade, variously known and interpreted as snuff brown, pecan brown, nut brown, and just plain medium brown. Here is a shift that takes into account differences in complexion, and does not seek to impose a single extreme upon the pale and the florid alike.

All this would give the impression that the snap-brim will be the only hat to be seen this fall. However, two other important styles must be mentioned. One is the increasingly important homburg, a dress-up hat. In steel gray, dark blue and black, it is finding wider acceptance by those men who have joined the movement toward greater formality, as evidenced by their double-breasted jackets, their white stiff collars on solid-color shirts.

There is also the turn-up-all-around hat, or the so-called semi-homburg, which represents a cross between the classicism and the snuff-brown snap-brim. Here the crown is not as tapered as in the homburg, nor the brim as curled. The "off-the-face" effect, however, is there, and very flattering it is, to many men.

(Copyright, 1936, The Constitution.)

THE TRULY AMERICAN HAT

The new snap-brim for fall, with lower crown, wider brim, and welt-edge finish. It is best in medium shades of brown.

Next Friday Mr. Fairchild will explain the Man's Shoe Wardrobe for fall and winter.

Writer Describes Crucifixion Of 2 Priests, Spain's Bloodshed

Editor's Note: An eyewitness description of the bodies of two priests, crucified in Spain's unbelieveably savage civil war, is given in the following dispatch from Edward G. Depury, of the Paris office of the United Press, who was permitted by the Rebel general staff to accompany an insurgent column in the Zaragoza-Belchite region, northeast of Madrid. Depury is the only foreign newspaperman with this column.

By EDWARD G. DEPURY. Copyright, 1936, by United Press.

BECHITE, Spain, Sept. 3.—(U.P.) I walked along a dusty road in Aragon today and came to the village of Pina where, behind the Loyalist lines, I saw two crucified priests hanging from their crosses.

One hung in an upright position—just as Christ was crucified. The other hung head downward—the position in which St. Peter was supposed to have been crucified.

I saw other things along the road as I marched 30 miles from Zaragoza south to Belchite with a column of Rebel cavalry and infantry under Lieutenant Colonel Arce. There were bodies that the vultures had found. And in a little village so small that it does not appear on my map, 12 persons—aged men, women and a few children—lay dead against the wall of a church in which they had sought sanctuary. They had been shot in the back.

The officers in this Rebel column told me that the peasants by the church wall were hostages slaughtered only a few hours before as the Loyalists withdrew before our advance.

Arce, white-faced with anger, ordered dismounted cavalry divisions, supported by volunteer foot troops, to hasten and occupy as many villages as possible before execution squads do their tasks.

"The Red savages are doing their best to intimidate us, but they only arouse my men to higher anger," Arce told me. "They are very cowardly and only find courage when advancing in large numbers against forces inferior in numbers."

"Among their dead we have found convicts from Barcelona prisons and the worst elements from Barcelona slums, pickpockets and white slavers. These people prey upon the countryside, pillaging, raping and killing any one with property. They are not content merely to kill, but work up a thirst for torture."

"Typical of the treacherous methods they use was the killing of the popular insurgent Commander Velez on the Teruel front a few days ago. A small band of Reds carrying a white flag advanced from the enemy lines. One called to Velez, saying he had formerly served under him and wanted to surrender. Velez went out to him with arms outstretched to give him an embrace, but at that moment the soldier pulled a pistol and shot Velez dead."

"His soldiers, who saw this, rushed out and killed 70 Reds."

"The Reds insist they have a number of civil guards army officers in their ranks, but if this is true, they are serving in virtual imprisonment for they are never found in outposts, for fear they might escape. Generally one Marxist is attached to each civil guard. The only troops the Reds are able to rely upon are Carabinas companies recruited by the republic."

N. Y. POLICE SEIZE 'GRUDGE' HERMIT

67-Year-Old Man Threatens Prominent Persons, Maintains Home Arsenal.

BAY SHORE, N. Y., Sept. 3.—(U.P.) State police today seized a 67-year-old hermit "with a grudge against everybody" and his arsenal of homemade bombs and firearms with which, they said, he threatened violence to prominent persons. A justice of the peace immediately locked him up for 30 days.

The arresting officers said their prisoner, who described himself as Joseph Kuehn, an anarchist, made rambling statements in which he named prominent persons, and asserted "the country is not being run right." He mentioned President Roosevelt's name, but did not make any direct threats against him, the state police said.

"He seems to have a grudge against everybody," Sergeant Glasheen said.

J. C. DORR, U. S. CONSUL, DIES IN MEXICO CITY

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 3.—(U.P.) Julian C. Dorr, 40, United States consul here, died today of bronchial pneumonia.

Dorr, a native of Seattle, Wash., entered the consular service in 1921 after serving with the American army overseas during the World War.

CONSTITUTIONAL BARS DEPLORED BY MORGAN

TVA Chief Declares U. S. Must Have Power To Solve Problems.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(U.P.) Contending that constitutional restrictions prevent the federal government from meeting many national and regional problems, Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, today urged steps "to solve these difficulties."

This should be done, he said, by amending or interpreting the federal constitution, or by organizing interstate water control districts, or by compact between the states.

The chairman of the New Deal's vast power development in the Tennessee valley expressed his views in a paper prepared for the forthcoming world power conference here.

Conference officials also made public a paper in which Harrison G. Roby, of the Bylesby Engineering and Management Corporation, attacked the Tennessee valley project as uneconomic and contended its power "is not cheap power."

Utilities Disagree.

Roby argued "in the long run the net benefit to the power user and the taxpayer will be greater if the private companies are permitted, as formerly, to develop the power under proper governmental regulation and control."

Morgan, taking another view, said: "In general, it seems to be the considered judgment of European and American people that water control is a public and not a private function. In many factors driving toward public development of water resources, it becomes imperative that their administration shall be non-partisan, non-political, businesslike and technically efficient."

Roby contended that government power projects are "political in their nature" and cannot be held "to the hard, firm, yielding demands of economic necessity."

Questioning TVA's value also as a flood control measure, he said "the present program of TVA will permanently flood an area of land more than that covered during the highest flood in the history of the Tennessee river."

MAN, WOMAN INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

GREENSBORO, N. C., Sept. 3.—(U.P.)—Miss Susan B. Anthony, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther B. Anthony, of Rauberville, Pa., and New York city, tonight was improving in a Greensboro hospital from serious injuries suffered in a crash Wednesday.

Holt Knight, of Greensboro, driver of the car in which she was riding when it crashed into a truck, remained in a critical condition at the same hospital, having not recovered consciousness.

Miss Anthony was in Greensboro visiting Miss Lylal Mae Reynolds and Miss Phyllis Morrah. She is the daughter of the well-known New York drama editor and playwright and a great-niece of the late suffragette leader, Mrs. Susan B. Anthony.

Russell Asks F. D. R. Farm Aid In Dry Area by Loan Moratorium

Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. urged further financial aid for drought-stricken farmers yesterday through a federal moratorium on land bank loans and commissioner loans and the cancellation of emergency crop loans.

Russell said he had telegraphed such a suggestion to President Roosevelt.

The text of the telegram follows: "Please let me suggest and urge a moratorium on federal land bank loans and commissioner loans and cancellation of emergency crop loans in areas officially designated as drought region."

"In Georgia there are 76 counties in the drought area and estimated crop loss of $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. Fortunately our entire section not affected, but in this area suffering no less acute than in midwest."

"Those who secured emergency crop loans were unable to secure other credit. This was relief money and enabled borrowers to stay off relief."

"In view of acute economic conditions those in our drought area as well as other states believe you fully justified from every standpoint declaring moratorium and cancellation and further feel the congress will quickly approve this course when reconvened."

SHOWERS AND WARMER FORECAST FOR TODAY

Overcast skies will bring occasional showers to Atlanta today, although temperatures, according to the weatherman, will be a bit higher than yesterday's.

"Warm weather is to the west of us and it probably will drift in during Friday," said Weatherman George W. Mindling yesterday. "The skies will be partly cloudy and there will be some rain."

Yesterday's highest temperature was 81 during the afternoon after a rise from 73 degrees in the morning. Today the top will be 86 after a start at 70 this morning, it is forecast.
